Candidate Bryan Warmly Welcomed Everywhere.

A Scheme to Detain the Nominee by a Subpœna as a Witness Against Pickpockets Fails.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 1.—The Bryan party left Grafton at 8:30 this morning and arrived here an hour later. Two short speeches were made, one at the hotel balcony and the other at the fair grounds. Mr. Bryan came near being held at Grafton by a subpœna until this afternoon. When the place was reached after 11 o'clock last night the newspaper correspondents caused the arrest of two alleged pickpockets, who had been following the train for some weeks, and they asked for a subpœna to be issued for the nominee's retention, claiming he was an important witness for the defense. The proceedings before the magistrate lasted until 4:30 this morning and resulted in the refusal to issue the subpœna, and consequently Mr. Bryan was not detained.

The trip this morning was continued in the special car chartered by John T. McGraw, national committeeman of this state. The arrangements for the trip through this state have been much better than at any other place. Mr. Bryan spoke at 11 o'clock to a few hundred people from the balcony of the Traders' hotel. In the crowd were Bryan and Sewall clubs and "Hickory" clubs, the latter carrying canes made of that wood. A larger crowd listened to him at the fair grounds and he was cheered and applauded enthusiastically. He left for Parkersburg at 11:30.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

Iowa's Eight Day Event Opens With an Accident.

A Reviewing Stand Falls Carrying a Distinguished Party and Injuring Many.

BURLINGTON, Ia, Oct. 1.—While a parade was passing a review stand today, during the Iowa semi-centennial celebration, the stand containing the governor and his staff and fifty others collapsed, throwing all to the ground and injuring many of them, but none fatally. County Treasurer Burros, of Burlington, had a leg broken; Fred L. Dorr, city clerk of Burlington; Major Wyman, of Ottumwa; James D. Rowen, of the governor's staff, were painfully bruised. Others hurt were only scratched and bruised. Governor Drake was not injured.

Fifty years ago today Iowa became a state, having previously occupied a prominent position among the wild western territories. In honor of this anniversary twenty thousand people gathered in this city today to inaugurate an eight days' celebration.

Burlington was selected as the place for holding the celebration on account of its prominence in territorial affairs, being for a number of years the seat of government.

This was the opening day—governor's day—and the city was honored by the presence of Governor Drake and staff, several ex-governors, Vice President Stevenson and a large number of other prominent citizens of the state and nation.

The day opened with a salute of guns at sunrise. At 9:30 a reception was tendered to Governor Drake, Vice President Stevenson and other distinguished guests at the hotel Delano.

At 10:30 the grand parade, consisting of the governor and staff and prominent guests, escorted by four companies of state militia, citizens in carriages and numerous handsome floats, illustrating the "march of Progress," passed through the principal streets, which were crowded with masses of people and profusely decorated.

At noon all the bells and whistles in the city broke forth in welcome to the visitors. The afternoon exercises, which were held in the large coliseum at Crapo park, where opened by Philip M. Crapo, president of the Iowa semi-centennial commission. An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Naumann. Governor Drake, as president of the day, also delivered an address of welcome and congratulation. Lafayette Young, of Des Moines, delivered the address of the day. The exercises closed with a dress parade in the evening there will be a banquet at the Hotel Delano to a hundred guests.

THE STRIKE.

Situation on the Canadian Pacific is Serious.

Striking Dispatchers Appear to Have the Best of the fight, Though the Officials Remain Firm.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 1.—No trains are moving regularly on the Canadian Pacific this morning, except between Toronto and this city. There is talk of a compromise being effected between the strikers and the railroad. Rumors of sympathetic strikers of other branches of the trainmen's organizations are rife. The situation is serious. The road is using every inducement to hire operators to take the places of the strikers, but experiences great difficulty in getting competent men. At this season of the year the movement of grain from Manitoba is considerable and the Canadian Pacific has an unusual volume of freight business.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 1.—Grand Chief Powell, of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, left here last night and is expected to arrive at Montreal tomorrow morning to attend to the trouble on the Canadian Pacific. First Assistant Grand Chief Dolphin is expected to arrive in Winnipeg tomorrow to look after the affairs in that territory.

Ends Her Life With a Bullet Through the Heart.

CAIRO, Ill., Oct. 1.—At 5 o'clock this morning Mrs. Frazer, a bride of five days, shot herself through the heart dying instantly. No reason can be given. A NEW TRIAL.

Scott Jackson Will Be Given Another Chance.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 1—The appeal of Scott Jackson, condemned to be hung for the murder of Pearl Bryan, was heard by the court of appeals today on a petition for a new trial. Prosecutor Lockhart and the attorney general appeared for the commonwealth and L. J. Crawford for the defense. The decision was reversed.

J. W. Baxter, of Auburn, is in the city attending to legal business. He is a prominent democrat of DeKalb and gives most encouraging reports of the political outlook in that county. He says there are hundreds of silver republicans in DeKalb, and that the county will go for Bryan by 500 majority in November.

Miss Nancy Gouty, of 227 West Superior street, today reported at the police headquarters the loss of a silver watch.

A horse owned by Dr. Caldwell died last night and was hauled away this morning by Poundmaster Tremmel.

BAD WRECK.

Two Railroad Locomotives Are Smashed to Scrap Iron.

Freight Trains Collided Near Pittsburg With Fatal Results—One Man Killed and Others Injured.

PITTSBURG Pa., Oct. 1.—Two freight trains collided last night at Philson, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, 124 miles east of Pittsburg, making one of the worst wrecks in the history of the road. One man is dead, two probably fatally wounded and several others missing. The latter are lying dead under the wreck almost beyond the shadow of doubt.

The grade at Philson is very heavy, the line descending at the rate of over 100 feet to the mile. The accident occurred at 10:30 o'clock last night. Fast freight east, No. 74, was scheduled to meet westbound freight, No. 95, at Philson. The latter train reached the siding and waited on the main track for the eastbound train.

Shortly after starting down the grade the crew of No. 74 lost control of the train. In an instant it was going at an express speed, and the crew decided to take chances by staying aboard rather than jump. As the train shot around the curve at Philson, the east bound train struck the other train, and every car on the former was thrown to the common center of the collision and ground to atoms. The engines were smashed to scrap iron. The other train was also badly wrecked, and debris was piled as high as the telegraph poles.

Rescuing crews worked all night, but abandoned it at daylight Superintendent Cutter started for the scene, and will personally attend to the removing of the wreck. The property loss to the railroad company will reach many thousands of dollars. The names of the killed and injured have not yet been obtained.

The Baltimore and Ohio eastern express which left Pittsburg at 9 o'clock last night, was held at Rockwood, where the Somerset and Cambria branch to Johnstown intersects the main line. At daylight it was decided to advance the train to the scene of the wreck, where the passengers were transferred around the wreck. The Cleveland base ball club was on the express, bound for Baltimore to open the temple cup series of games. During the early morning it seemed that it would be impossible to reach Baltimore in time for the game, but the Baltimore and Ohio officials stated they would make an effort to get the club in Baltimore by 3:30 or 4 p. m. It is hardly probable, however, that a game will be played before tomorrow.

TWO BODIES RECOVERED.

Two bodies are reported to have been recovered so far and it is believed a number of others are still under the wreck. The wires are still down at points east of Bowman station, which is west of the wreck, and but meager details of the accident can be obtained. A special telegram to an afternoon paper, received from Cumberland, stated that the entire train crew, consisting of the engineer, fireman, conductor, two brakeman and a flagman, and two tramps, who were stealing a ride, were killed. Thirty-four cars, which were loaded with coal, together with the engine and caboose, are piled upon the track and traffic, both east and west, is entirely suspended.

WORSE THAN AT FIRST SUPPOSED.

A later Cumberland dispatch says: Up to 1 o'clock twelve tramps have been taken from the wreck, six of whom were dead. The remaining number were brought to this city and placed in the hospital and are in a serious condition.

One of the tramps stated that in the car in which he was riding there were ten companions, while another says that his car was occupied by eight others. Trainmen say that a number of men who had been attending the Bryan speaking yesterday and who were on their way to their homes in Myersdale, Pa., were riding on the bumpers, so it is thought that there are many still under the wreck. It is thought here that some of the men riding the bumpers cut off the air, thus causing the wreck. Among the train men injured were the following:

Engineer Zane, of train 74, perhaps fatally.

John Cornell, front brakeman, seriously injured.

Fireman Owen, seriously injured.

Fireman Shaw, bruised very badly.

Other trainmen were cut and bruised.

Whitney, who is highly respected, is at the verge of death He has been ill for several weeks, and this may account for the inability of the bank to tide over its difficulties. J. B. Bruff has been appointed receiver, and announced that the bank proper has $200 000 liabilities and assets of $175,000, composed of notes, bills and credits that cannot be made available at once. F. H. Whitney's assignment showed personal notes due his bank, mortgages and other debts aggregating $166 000. A schedule of assets shows $522,700. The other bankers of the city say the property will pay all claims in full. Whitney's property consists of office buildings and real estate in Atlantic Kansas City, Birmingham, Ala, Nebraska, Colorado and Iowa.

BOTH GUILTY.

Bodewig and Johnson Must Go to the Pen.

They Stand Accused of Derailing an Express Train and Causing a Fatal Wreck.

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—The second trial of John C. Bodewig and William H. Johnson in the United district court, resulted today in a verdict of guilty against both defendants. They were tried for conspiring with others to obstruct the passage of the United States mail. On July 16, 1894, an express train was derailed two miles west of Battle Creek. One rail was found to have been moved and spiked fast a foot out of the line. The fireman of the train was killed in the accident. After many sensational developments a number of men were arrested and the defendants in this case made damaging statements which were used against them on the present trial. Their first trial was in connection with a man named Jewett. The latter was acquitted and the jury disagreed as to Bodewig and Johnson.

LADIES IN POLITICS.

Members of the Carroll Club Addressed by S. M. Foster.

By Special Invitation He Delivers a Brilliant Speech on the Money Question.

Women can't vote but they can discuss politics all they want to. And, to the credit of the fair sex may it be said, that there is an almost universal desire on their part to learn all they can with reference to the great political questions of this very remarkable presidential year.

By special invitation of the Carroll Literary club Hon. S. M. Foster this afternoon addressed the club at the home of Mrs. D. C. Fisher on the monetary question. His remarks were extemporaneous and highly interesting and afforded the ladies a grand treat.

Mr. Foster took up the question from a non-partisan standpoint, and told all he could about the gold and silver issues of this campaign as claimed by each party and the different arguments of each one.

The E M. C. club has been organized nearly a year, and has some promising histrionic talent.

ATE STARCH AND DIED.

Josie Jenkins Meets With a Peculiar Death.

Mrs. Christina Goebel Succumbs to Paralysis—Baby Adfield Dies of Convulsions.

Miss Josie Jenkins died at Latts, Ohio, yesterday morning, after an illness of several months. The deceased was a domestic, who for several years had been employed in this city. Two weeks ago she left Hope hospital for the home of her parents, at Latts, and nothing further was heard from her until yesterday, when a letter conveying the news of her death was received by the lady for whom Miss Jenkins formerly worked. The funeral will take place at Latta tomorrow afternoon.

The circumstances connected with the girl's death are peculiar. She was addicted to the habit of eating starch, frequently indulging in such quantities of the product as to cause serious stomach trouble. About three weeks ago she had an attack of more than usual intensity and was taken to Hope hospital for proper care. Inflammation of the bowels set in, but under skillful treatment of Dr. Barnett she recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home. Since then she suffered a relapse which ended fatally.

ARBITRATION FAILS

To End the Strike of Miners at Leadville, Col.

LEADVILLE, Col., Oct 1 —Every possibility of ending the strike by arbitration or other amicable means has disappeared for the time being at least, the Cloud City Miners' union having voted in regular meeting last night to continue indefinitely its fight for uniform wages of $3 per day for all of the men in all the mines. Two hundred members of the union have withdrawn and will seek work. The mine operators will fill the places of the strikers with outsiders as rapidly as possible and the state militia will probably be kept here a long time.

ABANDONED HER.

Cordelia Buckwalter Given a Divorce From Her Husband

By Judge Dawson in the Superior Court—Arguments in the Fredham Case.

This afternoon, in the superior court, Judge Dawson heard the case of Cordelia A. Buckwalter against Joseph Buckwalter. Colerick & France appeared as attorneys for the plaintiff. They showed from the testimony that defendant had abandoned the plaintiff eight years ago, and the judge granted Mrs. Buckwalter a divorce.

The trial of the case of the state against L. M. Ferdham, charged with an assault on Herman Hohnholz, was begun yesterday before Justice Tancey. Evidence was taken yesterday but was not completed, and the case was continued until this morning, when the hearing of the testimony was finished. The attorneys argued the case to the court this afternoon.

Justice France fined Sadie Cope $20 and costs for practicing midwifery without a license. Constable Roembke made the arrest this morning.

It was stated several days ago that a fight occurred in Mendal Frank's saloon. It has been since learned that the affair mentioned did not take place in the saloon, but in the alley near to the building.

A Peru jury estimated the damage to a blooming widow's heart at $4,500 in a breach of promise case against a seventy year old man, but the judge looked the widow over and concluded that $1,200 would be nearer the proper mark and he scaled the verdict down to that amount. The judge also held that the heart of a young girl that had never been trifled with is entitled to about three times the financial consideration of that of an experienced woman.

In referring to the reorganization of Wabash Valley lodge, No. 44, of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, of Huntington, the News, of that place says:

"The Fort Wayne lodges sent down twenty eight men to conduct the initiatory ceremonies. The manner in which these gentlemen did the work is very highly spoken of by the new members. (That is to say the visitors must have used them rather tenderly.)

"Grand officers present were: Grand Master Workman T. D Neal, of Frankton, Ind.; Grand Foreman G. R. Hench, of Fort Wayne; Grand Guide R. C. Baxter, of Auburn.

"A noteworthy incident of the meeting and one which was mentioned by Grand Master Workman Neal, in his address, was the presence in the lodge room of representatives of three generations, all of whom were now members of the order. The persons in question being H. H. Eggleston, of Meadville, Pa., a member of Jefferson lodge, No. 1, the first lodge of this order to be organized. His son, William O Eggleston, also a member of Jefferson lodge, No. 1, was present; and his son, Hal H. Eggleston, was initiated into Wabash Valley lodge, No. 44, and son, father and grandfather sat together.

"Those present from Fort Wayne were: E. V. Elser, E S. Hurlbut, Percy B. Bosworth, O. F. Lindlof, J. J. Bauer, George M. Fordney, Jacob Hausbach, R. H. Claymiller, Paul E. Wood, Eugene Olds, E. B. Smith, A. Hobrook, Frank Getz, Harry Drummond, W. G. Wurtle, John H Eylenberg, William H. Reinking, George H. Reinking, Frank Bayless, Richard Muhlenbruck, Fred Bleibtren, G. R. Hench, George H. Sthair, Lorenze Haiber, Wm. B Haiber, Henry Williams, Jacob Racine and Will C. Ryan."

The full corps of officers of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 19, were there and did the work, except that of the past master workman, whose office was filled by George A. Sthair, of Msumee lodge, No. 50.

A NECESSITY

For the Health and Comfort of the Children.

Realizing the dire need of proper ventilation in our county schools we have investigated the new apparatus recently placed in District No. 4, Wayne township, and we find it indeed what its name implies, an ideal heater and ventilator. Ideal, because simple and very effective, warming the room all over alike, furnishing an abundant supply of fresh air warmed to any degree required and removing the foul air from the base of the room, thus keeping the atmosphere in the room at all times pure and invigorating. The children's feet are always warm and they are in a condition for effective work. Mr. Schmetzer deserves great credit for this long stride in the right direction. The county superintendent is in full sympathy with him in this advance movement by the Peck, Williamson Heating and Ventilating company, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

BOUGHT 'EM FOR "BILL."

John Churchill's Lame Excuse for Having Burglars' Tools.

A Suspicious Trio Sent to Jail—They Had Pocket Knives and Razors.

This morning the three suspicious characters arrested last Tuesday on suspicion of being crooks were taken before Mayor Scherer for hearing. The prisoners are all men under thirty-five years of age, of the type who exert themselves to avoid honest labor. The most telling evidence against them was the goods found in their possession. Among other things there were twenty pocket knives, several razors, a chisel and several drills.

Prosecutor Doughman put the accused men under a hot fire of questioning. The man giving the name of John Churchill, who talks glibly with a bowery twist of the tongue, was chief spokesman and he endeavored to convince the court that all were honest men and wanted to work, but the testimony showed that they had not labored for two years or more, and that they came here together on a freight train with the apparent intention of engaging in doubtful pursuits. Churchill tried to explain that he had bought the drills for a boilermaker named "Bill," whose other name he did not know. It was clear to the mayor, the prosecutor and everybody else that the aforesaid "Bill" existed only in the fertile brain of the prisoner and came to the natural conclusion that the drills were purchased for some evil purpose. Therefore a fine of $15 and costs was assessed against each of them, in default of which they went to jail.

In the meantime it is thought more convincing evidence can be gathered against them. If these men are not crooks indications are misleading. Two of them, giving the supposed fictitious names of John Churchill and Bud McGardie, were arrested by Officer Knock. In another section of the city about the same time Sergeant Daseler arrested the third one, giving the name of Victor Churchill. At first the latter protessed to have no acquaintance with the other two but in police court this morning the testimony given by another of the gang showed that they came here together; that they had nothing in view by coming here unless it was to engage in crooked work, and that they had no reasonable excuse for carrying about in their pockets such goods as they had.

After court adjourned the mayor, prosecutor and superintendent of police met and decided to arrest every suspicious character. It is considered to be a good aid toward suppressing crime.

OTHER SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.

Officer Paul arrested two other suspicious characters near the Wabash freight house last night. One gave the name of Reval Iliff and the other as William Smith. The most suspicious thing about Smith was a horse pistol fourteen inches long, which would cause an ordinary mortal to have spinal complaint to carry around. Both prisoners were sent to jail.

OPENING THE SEASON.

Order of Red Men Start the Social Ball Rolling.

Sons of Columbus Give a Charming Event to Open Their Season.

The Improved Order of Red Men had a most enjoyable time at their hall in the MacDougall block last evening. The affair, which included singing and speaking, was the first of a series of social events which it is proposed to give this fall and next winter, and it was participated in by the wives and children of the Red Men and a few invited guests.

The Sons of Columbus formally opened their social season at the hall last evening by giving a progressive pedro party and rendering a literary and musical program. It was a success from every standpoint. The organization will have a season of unusual activity, owing to the increased membership since last winter. The committee on entertainment is already engaged in its work of preparing for the social season.

MR. MCKINLEY repays the friendship which the railroads are showing him by staying at home and compelling thousands of persons who desire to see him to pay tribute to the carrying corporations. Mr. Bryan saves the hundreds of thousands of people who desire to see him the payment of this tribute to the railroads and visits them at their own home towns and cities.

THE Eureka Athletic club, which promised to put up $6,000 for the Corbett-Sharkey mill, failed to come up with the money. Like backers, like principals.

INVENTORS may talk of air ships as much as they please, but it must be conceded that the bicycle is really the best flying machine which has been invented up to date.

THE Chinese element has extended itself until now there are more than 10 000 Celestials in and around New York city, and we are told that 200 of these are professed Christians. Five hundred are enlisted in Sunday schools and the day school in New York has had during the past year an enrollment of fifty one.

THE reported discovery in South Africa of a flower which in the morning appears to be red, at noon white and at night blue, provokes the happy suggestion that all trouble in selecting a national flower should now be over. It is to be hoped that botanists may find that our colors thus discovered in nature may be found to grow in the same form in the more northern latitudes.

THE action of the populists in withdrawing ten of their electors and substituting for them ten electors of the democrats may be looked upon as the first step toward a complete fusion between the two parties in this state. The proposition which led to this action came from the democrats and was accepted by the populists. It is understood that the populists will withdraw their state ticket. Already there has been fusion in many of the congressional districts.

HON. JOHN OVERMEYER, of North Vernon, Ind, who speaks at Saengerbund hall on Saturday evening of this week, is one of the best speakers in the state. He was until recently a prominent republican. He was at one time republican state chairman and was a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1888. He is a prominent banker of the state, but a very earnest and sincere worker for the cause of free silver.

A NORWEGIAN by name Borchgrevinck is credited with having discovered a new continent in the Antarctic circle larger than the whole of Europe. At the recent Independent Geographical congress in London, England, he gave a report of the new country. He estimates that it extends over about eight million square miles, and the climate ranged from twenty-eight to forty-six degrees in temperature. Specimens of rock which he showed give evidence of probable mineral resources. The land was thickly covered by penguins and there appeared traces of vegitation.

FOR eighty-one years this country had the free coinage of gold and silver. In 1873 this right was taken from silver and allowed to be retained by gold. Silver now is simply asking for a restoration of its rights—equal privileges with its rival, both of which have been the money metals of the world for centuries. This is the plain, well defined issue in the present political campaign. The white metal is only pleading for equal rights at the hands of the government. Continue at our mints the free coinage of gold and silver, as it was prior to 1873, and the silver dollar will be the equal, in face as well as bullion value, of the gold dollar, and good times will return.

What Makes Hard Times?

The Atlanta Constitution gives the following figures: Amount spent by Americans in the last twelve months for whisky is $609,000,000. Spent during the same time for beer, $617,258,000. Spent during same time for cigars and tobacco, $275,750,000. Amounting in all to $1,501,978,000.

This is more than the entire volume of money in circulation in the country. It is $27 per capita, more than the present per capita circulation. It is $195 a year for each head of a family in the United States.

This money would pay for all the appropriations of a billion dollar congress and leave enough to more than half pay the expenses of another such congress. It would pay six times over for the American cotton crop. It would pay the cost of a long foreign war. It would feed and clothe in a plain fashion every family in the United States.

This is simply a statement of facts which must open the eyes of men to the true explanation of most of the poverty and suffering now prevailing.

It is Lack of Cash.

The farmer, manufacturer, and all who work for wages, realize that there is something wrong. Some say it is a lack of confidence. That may be so, as a lack of confidence always prevails under contraction of the currency, and, besides the locking up of money, there has been a fearful decline of its volume in three years. But a lack of confidence does not prevent a farmer from buying a windmill, or plow, or harrow, or a fanning mill, or from clothing his family in good shape, but a lack of cash. It is a question of finance with him. He fails to buy things freely because he hasn't the money. Lack of confidence is a false pretense. The sole reason is a lack of cash. The gold standard has cut the price of everything he raises in two. He must retrench because his crops, measured in price by gold, bring only half as much as they used to This affects disastrously the manufacturer. He can't sell as many goods. A lack of business compels him to reduce his output. With falling prices for farmers they have less money to spend for goods. The manufacturer cannot keep on without customers Then the misfortune which the gold standard has brought to the farmer and manufacturer reaches the wage earner. There is less work to be done. Thus farmer, manufacturer and wage earner are having it ground into them that something is wrong—that even a plenty of everything, with a lack of cash, is a misfortune. So, after many years' experience under the gold standard, with times growing harder, they are coming to the conclusion in droves that a vote for the rehabilitation of silver is a vote to give better prices to the farmer, will give him more cash and a broader basis for confidence, will set the wheels of factories running, and will furnish larger employment to wage earners.

American people will not be proud of the fact that the owner of Sunnyside, Washington Irving's home on the Hudson at Tarrytown, has at last felt obliged to close its gates against the public. For many a year the hospitable proprietor has let them stand wide open that every tourist and stranger, in affectionate remembrance of the great American author, might walk or drive in and see the home which he loved so well. But bicyclists turned the beautiful walks and lawn into a rendezvous for a mob. They lunched under the trees; they trampled on the grass; they threw bones, papers, boxes, grease and scraps of food about the beautiful lawn. And now the owner, a grandnephew of Irving, regretfully announces that the bums have fairly driven him out of house and home and he can endure it no longer. The gates of Sunnyside are closed henceforth. How proud the bicycling bums must feel of themselves!

By the end of this century there will scarcely be an Alaskan fur seal left except as a curiosity in museums. The United States has done all it could to preserve this valuable and useful creature, but other nations would not join us. Canadian hogs and some hogs of our own have been the worst murderers of the seal. Soon there will be no more sealskin cloaks.

Choice Recipes of the Bay View Assembly Cooking School for Our Readers.

THE SENTINEL has secured for its readers the chice recipes of the Bay View Assembly Cooking school, as prepared by Miss Colling, one of the most prominent demonstrators of the day. She was a graduate from the Philadelphia cooking school with the highest honors of her class, and has been identified with this popular art for some time. She is also a graduate of the Boston school of cookery.

The publication of these recipes will continue on each Thursday for three weeks. The following are given today:

MEAT BALLS.

Form balls about the size of a large marble from beef pulp prepared as for beef sandwiches. Heat a skillet quite hot, sprinkle lightly with salt, place a few of the balls in the skillet and keep in constant motion over the fire until the beef has changed color, and they are ready to serve.

SWEDISH TIMBALES.

Two eggs, one cup of milk, from one and a half to two cups of flour, one half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of olive oil.

Beat the egg until light, add the milk, then the flour; stir until thoroughly mixed, add the salt and last of all the olive oil; a Dover egg beater may be used for the entire process; fry on a timbale iron.

SALISBURY STEAK

Form small cakes from beef pulp similar to that used in the beef sandwiches, pressing them into shape with as little force as possible. Heat a skillet, grease it with a piece of beef suet, place the steaks, a few at a time, on the skillet, brown on one side, turn carefully and brown on the other side, and it is ready to serve. This may also be broiled on a wire broiler.

FRENCH FROZEN PUDDING.

Separate six eggs. Put over the fire one pint of sugar and one pint of boiling water which has been stirred until the sugar is partly dissolved. Bring to boiling point and boil for five minutes. Beat the yolks of the eggs until creamy. Pour over them the boiling syrup and beat until cold; then add one pint of cream and one tablespoonful of vanilla. Freeze in a freezer like ice cream.

BARTHOLOMEW'S FOOD.

Place one cup of milk in a double boiler, add to it while cold two level tablespoonfuls of sage; stir occasionally; and when quite clear add to it one cup of beet tea. When thoroughly heated stir in the yolks of two eggs; remove at once from the fire, add seasoning and serve. This may be reheated by placin a cup, setting the cup in hot water on the stove, and keep stirring until hot.

OMELETTE SOUFFLE.

Whites of two eggs, yolk of one egg, one rounding tablespoonful of powdered sugar, one teaspoonful of vanilla.

Beat the yolk until light, add to it the vanilla, then beat the white until stiff, add the powdered sugar and beat until very stiff; pour over this the yolk and vanilla, stir until thoroughly mixed, place in a lightly greased dish, and bake in a moderate oven about five minutes.

WATER SPONGE CAKE.

Beat the yolks of six eggs, and two cups of fine granulated sugar together for fifteen minutes, then add one cup of boiling water, and stir until mixed. Then add two and a half cups of sifted flour with two and a half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted through it, and stir until mixed. Then add one teaspoonful of vanilla, or a tablespoonful of lemon juice, and last of all the well beaten whites of four eggs.

STUFFED POTATOES.

Bake six good sized potatoes; when done cut in two lengthwise, and with a spoon scoop out the potato into a hot bowl. Mash fine and add one tablespoonful of butter, one half cup of hot milk, a teaspoonful of salt, and white pepper to taste; beat until very light, and then add the well beaten whites of two eggs; stir in carefully; fill the skins with this mixture, brush over with the yolk of the eggs and place in the oven until brown—about fifteen minutes.

CREAM MACARONI WITH CHEESE.

One-fourth pound of grated cheese, one-fourth pound of macaroni, one cup of milk, two level tablespoonfuls of flour, one half teaspoonful salt, a few grains of Cayenne pepper.

Break the macaroni into one inch pieces, drop slowly into about two quarts of boiling salted water. Allow it to boil rapidly for about twenty five minutes. While boiling, grate the cheese and make the cream sauce. Put into a double boiler the milk, rub the butter and flour together, add them to the boiling milk, stir until it thickens, then add the salt and Cayenne; when the macaroni is tender turn into a colander, add to the cream sauce, and just before serving add the cheese and stir until it has melted.

MUFFINS.

Two and one half cups of flour, two and one half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one fourth teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cup of milk, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one egg.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, beat the egg until light, add the milk to it and pour them over the dry ingredients; add the melted butter and stir to a smooth batter; place in the gem pans and bake from fifteen to twenty minutes.

PEACH SHORTCAKE.

One quart of sifted flour, two rounding, or four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one level teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, two rounding or four level tablespoonfuls of butter, two-thirds of a pint of milk.

Sift the flour, salt and baking powder together, then add the sugar and stir, then rub in the butter, add the milk all at once, and stir to a smooth dough. Place in the pan and press out with the fingers, and bake for fifteen or twenty minutes.

BISCUITS

Three cups of flour, three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one level teaspoonful of salt, one and a fourth cups, scant, of milk. Sift the flour, salt and baking powder, then add the milk all at once; mix with a knife to a smooth dough, then cut several times with a knife and turn out on a well floured board; cover lightly with flour and roll out about half an inch thick. Cut with a small cutter and place in a pan close together. Wash lightly over the top with melted butter, and bake from ten to twelve minutes.

SEIRRED EGGS

Toast slices of bread a delicate brown, butter slightly, and for each slice of bread use one egg. Divide the eggs, leaving the yolks in one half the shell and setting them in a dish of salt, or some similar material while beating up the whites. Beat the whites until light, season lightly with salt and pepper, heap onto the toast, make a slight depression in the center, add a very small piece of butter and then turn into the depression one of the yolks. Place in a dripping pan and set in the oven for two minutes, or until a delicate brown, and they are ready to serve.

POTATOES AU GRATIN

Five cold boiled potatoes, one pint milk, four level tablespoonfuls of butter, four level tablespoonfuls of flour, one half teaspoonful of salt, one half saltspoonful of white pepper, one half cup of bread or cracker crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter.

Cut the potatoes into half-inch dice; there should be one quart by measure. Season with salt and pepper. Put in a baking pan, pour over them a sauce made by melting four tablespoonfuls of butter, adding the flour, and stirring until thoroughly mixed; stir this into the milk, which has been brought to boiling point in a double boiler. Stir until it thickens, then add the salt and pepper. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, stir through the crumbs and spread lightly over the top Bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are a delicate brown.

NARROW ESCAPE

From Death of General Nelson A. Miles and Party.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, the commander of the army of the United States, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon while driving on the hill leading from the Cliff house to the Ocean beach. He owes his life to the coolness and agility displayed by Col. Amos S. Kimball, chief quartermaster of the department of California, and W. A. McKittrick, of Bakersfield, a son in law of Col. William Schaefter. After inspecting the water works plant at the Presideo, General Miles and a party of friends started for town in order to catch the train for the south. While going down a steep grade the pole of the carriage in which the commanding general was riding broke short off near the axle and frightened the team. The vehicle was dashed against the bluff and the driven thrown from his seat between the plunging and kicking animals, but Colonel Kimball and Mr. McKittrick jumped out and rushed to the horses' heads just in time to prevent their bolting down the hill to almost certain destruction.

DAMAGING STORM

A Hurricane Struck Baltimore at Midnight.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept 30.—A severe hurricane struck this city at midnight last night. Houses were unroofed, wires prostrated, windows smashed and sign boards blown from their fastenings. The high wind forced the water in the harbor up into the bed of the streets, and almost the entire northern water front is submerged. Several schooners that were tied up at the Pratt street wharf broke from their moorings and are resting in the middle of Pratt street. The lower floors and cellars of warehouses were flooded. The storm was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain.

SAILORS DROWNED

By an Accident to a Boat on the Lakes.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 30.—The barge Sumatra, consort of B. W. Arnold, bound down from Chicago with a load of railroad iron, foundered off the government pier here this morning. Four sailors were drowned. The captain and mate and cook were rescued by the life saving crew. The members of the crew lost were: Arthur Burnsted, West Bay City, Mich; Charles Hemmer, West Bay City, Mich; Patrick Peterson, West Bay City; Peter Anderson, West Bay City. The rescued are: Capt. Charles Johnson, West Bay City; John Burbeck, mate of the barge, West Bay City; Ira Purser, cook, West Bay City.

WHY AM I SO TIRED?

Why Do I Feel So Weak and Run Down?

Your Poor Condition Is Made Worse by Nervous Debility. Science Proclaims a Certain Remedy.

You have lost your old-time snap and vim. Work that you used to do with ease, now tires you. You often feel dull, dispirited and without ambition. You pass more or less sleepless nights, wake mornings, tired and unrefreshed, have little or no appetite for breakfast, your head feels dull, there is a bad taste in the mouth, and your bowels are constipated. You go about your employment with a sense of weakness or weariness, and a distaste for taking hold of your work. Besides, you are nervous, irritable and often "blue" without apparent cause.

Then look at yourself.

Mrs. Andrew Mitchell, of 525 Kempton St., New Bedford, Mass., tells you that you can be cured, as she was cured when weak, tired and nervous.

MRS. ANDREW MITCHELL.

She took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, finding that it improved her condition at once. She was so much benefitted by the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura that she says she "can not say enough in praise of it," and she urges all her friends to give it a trial.

This wonderful restorative, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, will give back to the weakened and exhausted system the strength it has lost. It will impart strength and vigor to the brain and nerves, vitalize and invigorate all the physical powers and restore you again to that grand degree of lusty strength, of bounding pulse, and strong physical and nerve power, which, by overwork, ignorance or folly, you have exhausted.

It is not a patent medicine but the prescription of the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th Street, New York City, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

GOLD VS. SILVER.

A Public Debate on the Free Coinage Question.

The Silver Republican Club Issues a Challenge to Gold Men for a Joint Discussion.

If the advocates of the single gold standard desire to ventilate their views on the money question in such a way that argument can be met with argument on the part of those who believe that silver should be given equal rights under the law with the yellow metal, the silver republican club of this city will give them the opportunity to do so.

This latter organization is composed of a number of republicans in this city who believe in the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. They believe that right and justice and argument are on their side and they are not afraid to meet their opponents in a public debate on this proposition, and let the voter decide for himself which financial policy is the better for the United States to adopt.

For these reasons they are desirous of arranging a public discussion of this monetary question and have issued the following challenge:

FORT WAYNE, Ind, Oct. 1, 1896.

Editor SENTINEL:

Inasmuch as the present monetary conflict is the all absorbing topic, and, in order to give our voters the advantage of a discussion of the points at issue, we, the Republican Silver club, of Fort Wayne, Ind., hereby challenge any gold standard democrat or republican of Allen county to a joint debate with a speaker to be selected by this club, on the following conditions:

1. The discussion shall be a running debate of ten minutes each.

2 No subject shall be allowed to be presented except it bear directly upon the subject of free coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1.

3 Any law that bears directly or indirectly upon the money question can be discussed.

SHORT CROP NEWS

From India Sends the Price of American Wheat Up.

December Prices Bob Up and Down and Finally Settle at Sixty-Nine and a Half.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Wheat started on a rampage again this morning December opening at 68¾@69c and making an advance of ¾c. The news which seemed to affect the market most was the renewed reports of California engagements of wheat for shipment to India, apparently confirming the reports of crop shortage in that country, and Pillsbury's threshing returns from which a crop of 107 000 000 bushels was estimated, against 200 000 000 bushels last year. English houses again accepted a good deal of wheat. Cables were all higher, though Liverpool did not show the advance expected. Northwest receipts were heavy, 986 cars against 1,039 last year. After advancing to 69½c, realizing sales brought about a reaction to 69¼c, but the price soon soared up again to 69¾@½c

Corn as usual followed slowly in the wake of wheat. Trading was quiet, interest being centered almost entirely in the wheat pit. May opened ½c higher at 25½, and advanced to 26½.

Oats were also favorably affected May opened a shade higher at 19¾@19¾c, and advanced to 19¾@20c.

Provisions showed but little change at the opening but developed strength later with the grain markets.

January pork opened unchanged at $6.97½, and advanced to $7 15

January lard opened 2½c lower at $4.07½, advancing to $4.15

January ribs opened 2½c higher at $3 35, and advanced to $3 50.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Wheat—Oct., 68½; Dec., 69½c; May, 72⅝@72½c.

Corn—Oct., 23½c; Dec, 23¾@23½c; May, 26⅝@26¾c

Oats—Oct, 18c; Dec., 18½@18½; May, 20¼@20⅝c.

THREE FEET LONG.

The Largest Loaves of Bread Baked in the World.

The largest loaves of bread baked in the world are those of France and Italy. The "pipe" bread of Italy is baked in loaves two and three feet long, while in France the loaves are made in the shape of very long rolls four or five feet in length and in many cases even six feet.

The bread of Paris is distributed almost exclusively by women, who go to the various bakehouses at 5:30 a. m. and spend about an hour brushing and polishing the loaves.

After the loaves are thoroughly cleaned of dust and grit the woman proceeds on the round of her customers. Those who live in apartments or flats find their loaves leaning against the door. Restaurateurs and those having street entrances to their premises find their supply of the staff of life propped up against the front door. The wages earned by these bread carriers vary from 50 cents to 63 cents of our money, and their day's work is completed by 10 or 11 o'clock in the morning.—Cleveland World.

The bloodiest tyrant of modern times is Weyler, captain general of Cuba, who ordered 51 prisoners of war to be murdered on a Sunday morning.

LONDON "TOSHERS."

Go Through the Sewers to Search for Articles of Value.

Shoremen, or shoreworkers, they sometimes call themselves, but their most familiar appellation is "toshers," and the articles they pick up "tosh." They really belong to another well-known class, the mudlarks, but consider themselves a grade or two above these latter, for the genuine tosher does not confine himself as they do, traveling through the Thames mud and picking up odd pieces of coal or wood, copper, nails, bolts, iron and old rope. The tosher, when the coast is clear of the police, makes his way into the sewers, and will venture sometimes for miles in quest of valuables that occasionally find their way into them by the kitchen sink or the street grating. When about to enter the sewers these men provide themselves with a pole seven or eight feet long, on one end of which there is a large iron hoe, a bag carried on the back, a canvas apron tied around them, and a dark lantern, similar to a policeman's. This they strap on their right breast, so that while walking upright through the large sewers the light is thrown straight in front. When they come to the branch sewers and have to stoop, the light is thrown directly at their feet. As they make their way they use their hoe in the mud at their feet and in the crevices of the brickwork, and occasionally shillings and silver spoons find a temporary resting place in the bag at their back or in their capacious coat pockets. The toshers generally go in gangs of three or four, both for the sake of company and to be able to defend themselves from the rats with which the sewers swarm. When they come near a street grating they close their lanters and watch an opportunity to slip past unnoticed, for otherwise a crowd of people might collect at the grating, whose presence would put the police on the alert. They find great quantities of money, copper money especially, in the crevices of the brickwork a little below the grating, and not infrequently shillings, half-crowns and sixpences, with an occasional sovereign or half-sovereign. When "in luck" they find many articles of plate, spoons, ladles, silver-handled knives and forks, mugs and drinking cups, and now and then articles of jewelry. They generally also manage to fill their bags with the more bulky articles found in the search, such as old metal, bones and ropes. These they dispose of to marine store dealers and rag-and-bone men, and divide the proceeds, along with the coins found, among the different members of the gang. At one time the regular toshers used to earn from 30s to £2 a week each, but with the construction of new sewers, grated at the mouth, their industry is not so easily exercised, and is consequently much less profitable.—London Mail.

SIGN STATE OF INDIANA.

Many women are as unprepared for the birth of their babies as if they were found on the doorstep in the good, old-fashioned way. Nine-tenths of all the suffering incident to the coming of baby is absolutely unnecessary. It is unnatural that this great function should be fraught with so much danger and distress. This was Dr. Pierce's conviction thirty years ago, and he set about to find a way to set the trouble right. The result was the preparation and introduction of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only medicine of its kind devised by a regularly graduated, experienced and skillful specialist in the treatment of the diseases of women,—the only medicine in the world that frees the period of gestation from its discomforts, and makes parturition safe and practically painless. It is an absolute specific for all forms of female weakness and disease. It may be obtained at drug stores, and any woman who would like to know all about it, or who would like to have advice about her health, should write to Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Any woman who is sallow and bilious and headachey, who does not sleep well, and who is troubled with any form of indigestion can do no better thing than to try the effect of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are the only positive and permanent cure for constipation. They stimulate the action of the liver and assist Nature in getting rid of impurities. You do not become a slave to their use. Take them until the regular, healthy action of the bowels has been restored, and then quit. They are the only remedy of their kind that is a real remedy. They do not cause griping or any other unpleasant feeling. Don't let your druggist impose upon you and substitute something which he says is "just as good."

PRACTICAL RESULTS.

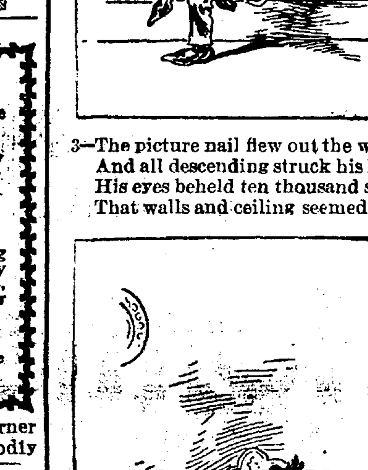

1—"Come to my arms," the lover sang,
[Or rather howled—he could not sing].
As he beneath her picture stood.
"Thou art my queen; call me thy king!"

2—His voice swelled throughout the room
"Thee I do love o'er everything."
The canvas shrunk, so did the frame:
His harsh notes withered e'en the string.

3—The picture nail flew out the wall,
And all descending struck his head.
His eyes beheld ten thousand stars,
That walls and ceiling seemed to shed.

4—"I asked you to come to my arms;
Not throw yourself around my neck."
And then he gave an awful gasp,
And breathed his last among the wreck.

RAILWAYS AND SHOPS.

A Freight Wreck Blocks the Pittsburg Tracks.

A Fireman's Vivid Dream of a Wreck —The Lake Erie's Paying Freight Business.

There was a freight wreck on the Pittsburg, a half mile west of the railway crossing at Columbia City, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. One of the wheels under a car loaded with hay, in the third section of train No. 78, broke and caused the derailment of twelve cars, eight of which were loaded. Some of the cars were badly damaged, while others were not in the least injured. Three hundred feet of track were also torn up and so completely blocked were the tracks that traffic was suspended at that point for several hours. The second and third sections of No 7, which were eight hours late on account of the damage to the tracks east of Pittsburg by the high waters, were further delayed three hours; No 9 was delayed one hour, No. 5 thirty minutes, No. 4 one hour and No. 6 twenty five minutes. Freight trains were also delayed from one to four hours. Nobody was injured.

A PAYING BUSINESS.

The Indianapolis News says: "A. G. Young, assistant general freight agent of the Lake Erie and Western, says the trains on the Fort Wayne division pay over a dollar a train mile, and that is more than many trains on more pretentious roads pay. 'The train that arrives in Indianapolis at 10:20 a. m. and the one that leaves here at 1:20 p. m,' said Mr. Young, 'are the best paying trains that come into the union station. I mean, taking into consideration the equipment and the kind of trains they are. They are not quite so fancy as some of the trains on the other roads, but they do a heavy local business and bring in the revenue.'"

The Wabash, in order to bring expenses within bounds, this morning put its switch engines and crews at this point on short time. The force was further reduced by sending one of the night men to Andrews to work until his services are again required in the Fort Wayne yards.

Fireman Charles Davidson, of the Nickel Plate, invested twelve cents in horse flesh in Stony Island and reaped a profit of $40 within two weeks. If his investment proved profitable, he agreed to buy a suit of clothes for his engineer, McCarthy, and true to his promise, he presented that gentleman with a handsome suit yesterday.

The net earnings of the Burlington for the month of August were $440 651, a decrease of $33,260 from the same month of last year. The net earnings of the road from the first of the year to August 31 were $251,053, an increase of $332,215 over the earnings of the same period last year, when the net earnings of the road showed a deficit of $81,162

The Santa Fe fast train, which is to be put on November 4 between Chicago and San Francisco, will be run but twice a week, leaving Chicago on Wednesday and Saturday. Last year, during the winter months, it was run daily, but was not profitable, consequently, like the Southern Pacific, but two trains each way will be run weekly.

The announcement was made at the meeting of the Railroad McKinley club last evening that arrangements for the excursion to Canton next Saturday had been completed. The Pennsylvania employes will travel in the first section of the train and the others will go on the second section. The tickets for the latter train will be made at party rates of $3 per head. The trains will leave at 5 o'clock and reach Canton at 11:30.

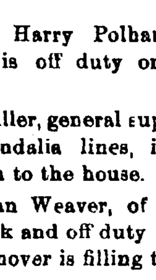

Albert Ingalls, third son of President Ingalls, on Monday began his railroad career, entering the office of C. E. Schaff, general manager of the Big Four, he proposing to learn the business. George Ingalls, another son, has been for two years with George Stevens, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and is showing marked ability already in the line of railway service.

A very important road from New Orleans to Atlanta, to be a perfect air line, has been projected by capitalists of the former city. It would be 169 miles shorter than any line now operated and lessen the time of passenger trains between New Orleans and New York six hours and freight trains twelve hours. The road is to be built entirely independent of the Southern railway or the Seaboard Air Line.

The Chicago and Rock Island has everything in readiness and on October 1 will introduce the merit system of promoting employes. General Superintendent Hitt in speaking of it said that the plan had been tried on other roads and he could see no good reason why it would not be a good thing for the Rock Island. Wherever it has been tried it has been unanimously approved by the employes as well as by the officers.

Fireman Joe Harber rushed into the Nickel Plate round house with his lunch basket, ready for a trip, at 5:45 o'clock yesterday morning, and inquired "Where is the wreck?" As no wreck has occurred on that road for two or three months, the round house men gave Harber the laugh. He dreamed that he had been called by the caller to go out with the wreck train and when he awakened he dressed himself in great haste and hurried to the round house.

NOW THE SLEEP CURE

SLUMBER AS A MEDICINE AND TONIC FOR MANKIND.

Some One Has Discovered That Sleep Is Better Than a Vacation—Complete Bodily Rest as Good as a Change of Scene. What Nicola Tesla Says.

Following the recently revived Kneipp cure comes the sleep cure.

It is suggested that what some people want is sleep holidays. They do not need to go to watering places and summer hotels and to be entertained by a round of gayety, with a band always playing. The apostles of the new method say that many people would be benefited if they just went to bed and slept for lengthened periods and that they might do well to take holidays in just that way. They affirm that as a rule men and women and children do not get sleep enough and that the old adage, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy and wealthy and wise," needs changing. There need be no reference to early rising in it. For "early to rise," it might be "late to rise."

The advice of that old saw was concocted, they say, in days when there were no express trains; no telephones, no telegraphs, no hurry. Where is the use of telling people to get up early whose brains are racked by anxiety and worry and who are being burned up by the ever increasing rate at which things have to be done?

The proper thing to say to them is to get as much sleep as they possibly can on every possible occasion. The suggestion of occasional sleep holidays, when worried people of this kind could temporarily shuffle off their mortal coil, is on this understanding quite intelligible. There would be no difficulty in making arrangements to carry the scheme out. The proprietors of the summer resorts would no doubt be glad to provide accommodation for any number of somnolent guests.

The prevailing question would not be, "What is there for dinner?" but, "Is my bed ready?" There would be memoranda as to the length of time sleep had been indulged in or was desired to continue. "Mr. A. came on Saturday. He is to be called on Wednesday night." "Mrs. B. will sleep for one week," etc. No doubt, if the fad were started, establishments would vie with each other in the perfection of their sleeping preparations, and we should be told that absolutely unbroken repose for any desired period could be obtained.

Joking apart, however, there may be something in the contention that a greater amount of sleep is required by people nowadays, especially brain workers, than was formerly the case. Nicola Tesla, the electrician, is credited with saying that he believes a man might live 200 years if he would sleep most of the time. That is why negroes often live to advanced old age, because they sleep so much. He also alluded to the current report that Mr. Gladstone now sleeps 17 hours every day. There is something distinctly pleasant in the idea of an old age of such commanding intellect being kept vigorous by the simplest of remedies.

But the worst of these precepts, like those of modern apostles of sleep, is that their instructions will be taken advantage of by the lazy and brainless as an excuse for inactivity for which they should have no manner of warrant, either in the development of their brains or the delicate adjustment of their nervous system. When the professional tramps read of Gladstone, we shall find stacks of them asleep by the roadside.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

IN THE FAR NORTH.

Explorer Jackson Will Make the Next Dash For the Pole.

A steamer will leave England next summer to bring home the Jackson-Harmsworth arctic expedition, which is now spending its third winter in Franz-Josef Land. All who are interested in arctic endeavor will await with much interest the result of Jackson's efforts next spring and summer, for he intends, if fortune favors him, to surpass Nansen's farthest north and to recover for England the record she lost when Greely's party in 1882 wrested from Markham the laurels of the nearest approach to the north pole.

Jackson has done notable things in Franz-Josef Land. He has proved that the hurried explorations of Weyprecht and Payer in 1873-4 gave us most erroneous notions of that region. His journeys have swept away the great bodies of terra firma which figure on Payer's map as Zichy Land and Wilczek Land. Payer gave us the idea that Franz-Josef Land was at least as large as Spitzbergen. But Jackson has found his Queen Victoria sea where Payer placed land. He has substituted for Payer's large land masses a considerable number of small islands and a large sea. He believes he has traced the archipelago to its most northwestern point and that his work, with that of Nansen, has fixed its northern and northeastern limits. The climate and ice movements also seem to prove that there is no large northern extension of land, and the drift of the Fram confirms this belief. Franz-Joseph Land, after all, is nothing but a comparatively small archipelago.

Jackson expects this fall to complete his mapping of these islands, and next spring he will set out on the ice or the waters of Victoria sea, where Payer placed Zichy Land, and tempt any fate that fortune may have for him in the far north. "I look upon Queen Victoria sea," he wrote, "as my most favorable route northward next year. When the sun returns next spring, the mapping of Franz-Josef Land will be practically complete, and nothing should prevent my attempting the open water or the crust of ice of this sea." Mr. Harmsworth, who is footing the entire bill for the costly enterprise, says that this opportunity of reaching the highest latitude ever attained will not be allowed to pass and that Jackson will strain every nerve to beat Nansen's record.—New York Sun.

VEGETABLE FREAKS.

Nature Plays Some Odd Pranks In the Tropical Forests.

We who live in the temperate zone are accustomed to nature on her best behavior. We see her orderly ways in the woods, where pines and oaks, poplars and maples, alders and willows and other forest trees have roots that grow down into the ground and limbs that grow properly up and out into the air.

But elsewhere nature has other moods and methods. In a tropical forest there is none of this air of dignity and good principle. The odd pranks, the wild absurdities, the vegetable freaks, which she is there guilty of, make a difference that is astonishing.

Trees apparently grow upside down and assume all sorts of eccentric shapes. Great dragging vines sprawl over everything, twisting and distorting the poor tired trees until they are crippled for life with what looks like rheumatism. The heavy rains and the hot sun make the plants grow rapidly, and there are fierce fights to see which shall win a little space in all that tangle. Such pushing, such climbing!

Then there is the orchid, clinging fringelike everywhere, frail and lovely, swinging back and forth in the soft air, but it has no conscience. It will not do a stroke of honest work and is determined to live on some one else, in which it certainly succeeds.

And there, too, is the wild pineapple (called in the West Indies the "pine"), which takes root in the rich mold lying on the upper sides of the largest branches of the mightiest and oldest of the trees. Where its diverging leaves start a cup is formed, which catches the rain and stores it up for the dry season. In this water little tree frogs and small crabs live, and it is told that years ago one of the expeditions sent against the fierce marooners in the mountains of Jamaica would have perished from thirst had it not been for the little "pines" and their tiny reservoirs.—St. Nicholas.

THE RIGHT TO SNORE.

Boston Courts Uphold a Husband Against a Wife's Complaint.

Mrs. Annie M. Carter of Lynn, Mass., will have to submit to her husband's snoring, and he has a right to continue tickling her feet. The probate court has so decided, and she cannot get back on it except by suing for divorce on other grounds.

Mrs. Carter sued for separate maintenance. She lives in Lynn, while her husband, Charles H. Carter, is engaged in the teaming business in Charlestown. She is an impressional card reader, and, to use her own words, spoken in court, is "a spiritualist to the backbone."

Both were past middle age on their marriage, Aug. 2, 1894. After they were wed they lived together in Charlestown about two months. She left him and went to Lynn to reside. The reason she left him, she said, was that he failed to support her, that he struck her and that he snored and tickled her feet by night.

"How long did he continue tickling your feet?" asked her counsel, G. M. Stearns.

"For two or three weeks," she responded.

Continuing, she said, "He struck me and snored, waking me up."

Mr. Carter testified that his wife gave as her reason for leaving him that the spirits told her she could not get along in Charlestown and had better go to Lynn.

"In the latter part of August, 1894, she said that the spirits told her I had tickled her feet," he added. "I never tickled her feet. I never struck her or any woman in my life. I never threatened to blow her brains out. She left me of her own free will. My home is there if she wishes to come back. I am not a spiritualist."

There were two other witnesses who testified, but whose testimony did not bear directly upon the main issues of the case.

The court dismissed Mrs. Carter's petition, whereupon friends sought to bring about a reconciliation, with favorable prospects of success, though it is thought by many that spiritualism has "turned the woman's head."—Exchange.

RATTAN COFFINS.

Undertakers Have Introduced Them, but They Will Not Become Popular.

The fad for rattan furniture has caught hold of the manufacturers of coffins. Two weeks ago it was possible for any individual of moderate means to be rocked in a rattan cradle, to sit in a rattan chair or recline on a rattan settee. Now the casket manufacturers have completed the cycle by making rattan coffins of all sizes.

One of the caskets, designed for a young child, is on exhibition in the window of a Lincoln avenue funeral director. It looks more like a big sewing basket than a burial case, and it is attracting a good deal of attention. The rattan is twisted and woven into a pretty border, which rises so as to conceal the lid, and the latter slides into position instead of being fastened with screws, as in the ordinary wooden casket.

The basket, for such it really is, is covered with white enamel, the only thing about the whole affair that suggests the casket. Inside the rattan case is a copper one to contain the body.

But, according to a down town funeral director, the rattan casket will never become popular. Rattan furniture, he thinks, is all right to sit on on the front porch or in the parlor, but to be buried in it is something most people will not take kindly to. It is entirely too unsubstantial looking, and it does not look solemn enough.

According to this same undertaker nearly every dealer in coffins in the city has a stock of one or two of the new coffin fads on hand which he is willing to get rid of at a big discount. —Chicago Times-Herald.

TRINIDAD'S LAKE OF PITCH.

Where Inexhaustible Supplies of Asphaltum Are Obtained.

Scientists have long been puzzled at the wonderful geological phenomenon presented by Pitch lake, in the island of Trinidad, the well known source of such vast supplies of asphaltum used on the streets of this and other countries. The lake or pot is estimated at only some 113 acres in area, yet it has yielded up many hundreds of thousands of tons of asphaltum, and, notwithstanding the quantity dug out, the excavation, curiously enough, is refilled with the strange substance in two or three weeks, and thus it is that the level of Pitch lake is said to be never lowered.

A mule and a cart can travel over this asphalt surface, but there are soft spots in which the animal would sink if he stood still. The temperature of the asphaltum in this natural and inexhaustible reservoir is stated to be normally a little above the temperature of the atmosphere, but there are indications all over the island that at some period, ages ago, Pitch lake boiled over and the liquid asphaltum covered the island.—Exchange.

A MONSTER CAT.

He Lives In a New York Fish Market and His Name Is Tom.

Just plain Tom is the unpretending name of probably the greatest domestic cat in the world. Edward Simmons, the fish and oyster man of Fulton market, New York, is the proud possessor of Tom. This giant of cats is 30 inches in length from his head to the tip of his tail. He is a foot high and weighed last spring 24 pounds. The recent hot weather has caused him to drop a few pounds of flesh, but has not impaired his health or happiness.

Thomas is black and white, and is rather peculiarly marked. He has two complete rings of white around his tail, which makes him look like first cousin to a raccoon. Mr. Simmons picked up the cat two years ago while walking along the street. Thomas was but a stray kitten then, so that his pedigree has never been ascertained, and it is not yet known whether or not heredity has had anything to do with his enormous size.—Exchange.

A RAILWAY PUZZLE.

The Mysterious Squeak on the Line of the Carolina Central.

Between the 49 and 55 mile posts on the Carolina Central railroad there is a piece of track for a distance of nearly six miles that presents a singular condition that so far amounts to an inexplicable mystery. All trains going and coming go to grinding and start a terrible squeaking when they get on this six miles of track. The noise comes from not only one car, but every locomotive, every coach and every car of whatever kind sets up a grinding as if turning a curve. The noise is something like the screeching of an ox cart that has no grease on it, and it is made by every truck on a train. The track is perfectly straight, and as there is no curve at all the cause of the grinding and squeaking has mystified the railroad people. Every effort has been made to ascertain the cause of the difficulty. The locomotives have been examined, the coaches and cars have been scrutinized, every crosstie and every rail has been inspected, every joint has been looked at and every foot of the track has been regauged, but no explanation could be found. The section master has almost crawled over the six miles on his knees in search of the cause, the roadmaster has tried his best to ferret out the matter, and the superintendent has been over the track and inspected it, all of them making repeated efforts time and again to find out what is the matter, but they have given it up as a bad job. They have not only not been able to discover the cause of the noise, but have been unable to discover any theory to explain the mystery. It is one of the railroad mysteries of the age and has been going on for 20 years. During that time the crossties and rails have been replaced several times with new ones, but without effect.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Tags on the Cap.

Among the parcels now traveling through the American Express company in Maine is a cap that is being sent over the country by the express agents. The article has been worn and probably cast aside by some one, and some of the expressmen decided to give it a little notoriety. Each agent into whose hands it has passed has attached a tag bearing the date and place. This cap has been most of the time in the southern states. It is really a peculiar sight, having more than 200 tags fastened to it.—Exchange.

End of His Fortune.

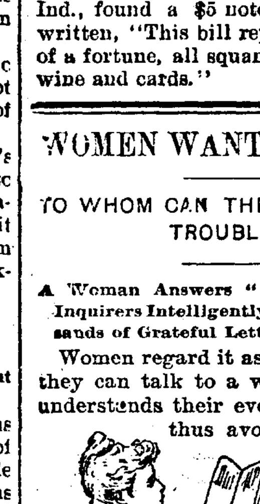

In his pay envelope, a Pennsylvania railroad employee living at Valparaiso, Ind., found a $5 note on which was written, "This bill represents the last of a fortune, all squandered on women, wine and cards."

WOMEN WANT TO KNOW.

TO WHOM CAN THEY TELL THEIR TROUBLES?

A Woman Answers "To Me"—Anxious Inquirers Intelligently Answered—Thousands of Grateful Letters.

Women regard it as a blessing that they can talk to a woman who fully understands their every ailment, and thus avoid the examinations, experiments and theories of incompetent physicians, whose sex deprives them of knowing by experience.

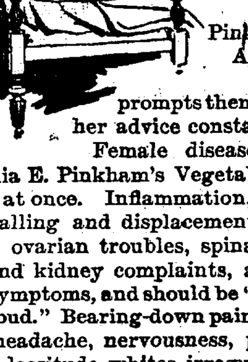

The endless confidence placed in Mrs. Pinkham by American women, prompts them to seek her advice constantly.

Female diseases yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. Inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, ovarian troubles, spinal weakness and kidney complaints, all have their symptoms, and should be "nipped in the bud." Bearing-down pains, backache, headache, nervousness, pains in groins, lassitude, whites, irregularities, dread of impending evil, blues, sleeplessness, faintness, etc.

Here is testimony right to the point:

"The doctors told me that unless I went to the hospital and had an operation performed, I could not live. I had falling, enlargement and ulceration of the womb.

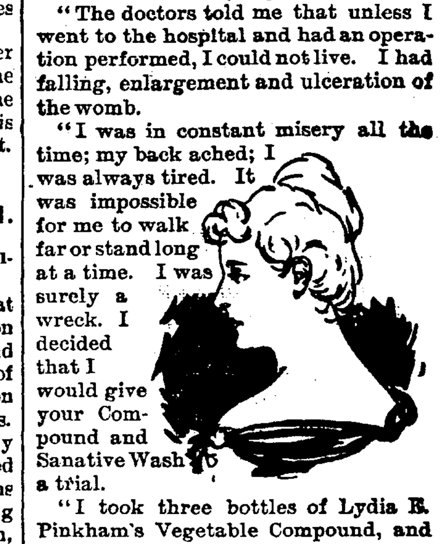

"I was in constant misery all the time; my back ached; I was always tired. It was impossible for me to walk far or stand long at a time. I was surely a wreck. I decided that I would give your Compound and Sanative Wash a trial.

"I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used two packages of Sanative Wash, and I am now almost well. I am stouter and healthier than I have ever been in my life. My friends and neighbors and the doctors are surprised at my rapid improvement. I have told them all what I have been taking." —MRS. ANNETTA BICKMEIER, Bellaire, Belmont Co., O.

People Will Buy Goods

In Hard Times, if they are Sold Cheap Enough.

We are selling lots of goods—more than ever before in the history of our great store, but are making mighty little money.

Times are not propitious for money making. The people will only buy when they are offered a $2 article for $1.

We have been filling our immense establishment with car load after car load of just such bargains, bought of receivers of factories that have failed. The effect upon our business has been magical In August of 1895 our sales exceeded those of August of 1894 sixty-two per cent. In August of this year we made a gain in sales over last year of twenty-two per cent, making a gain in August of 1896 over the same month of 1894 of eighty-four per cent. We doubt if such a record of increase of sales can be matched by any old established house in the state.

Candidate Bryan Warmly Welcomed Everywhere.

A Scheme to Detain the Nominee by a Subpoena as a Witness Against Pickpockets Fails.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 1.—The Bryan party left Grafton at 8:30 this morning and arrived here an hour later. Two short speeches were made, one at the hotel balcony and the other at the fair grounds. Mr. Bryan came near being held at Grafton by a subpoena until this afternoon. When the place was reached after 11 o'clock last night the newspaper correspondents caused the arrest of two alleged pickpockets, who had been following the train for some weeks, and they asked for a subpoena to be issued for the nominee's retention, claiming he was an important witness for the defense. The proceedings before the magistrate lasted until 4:30 this morning and resulted in the refusal to issue the subpoena, and consequently Mr. Bryan was not detained.

The trip this morning was continued in the special car chartered by John T. McGraw, national committeeman of this state. The arrangements for the trip through this state have been much better than at any other place. Mr. Bryan spoke at 11 o'clock to a few hundred people from the balcony of the Traders' hotel. In the crowd were Bryan and Sewall clubs and "Hickory" clubs, the latter carrying canes made of that wood. A larger crowd listened to him at the fair grounds and he was cheered and applauded enthusiastically. He left for Parkersburg at 11:30.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

Iowa's Eight Day Event Opens With an Accident.

A Reviewing Stand Falls Carrying a Distinguished Party and Injuring Many.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 1.—While a parade was passing a reviewing stand today, during the Iowa semi-centennial celebration, the stand containing the governor and his staff and many others collapsed, throwing all to the ground and injuring many of them, but none fatally. County Treasurer Berens, of Burlington, had a leg broken; Fred L. Derr, city clerk of Burlington; Major Wyman, of Ottumwa; James D. Rowen, of the governor's staff, were painfully bruised. Others hurt were only scratched and bruised. Governor Drake was not injured.

Fifty years ago today Iowa became a state, having previously occupied a prominent position among the wild western territories. In honor of this anniversary twenty thousand people gathered in this city today to inaugurate an eight days' celebration.

Burlington was selected as the place for holding the celebration on account of its prominence in territorial affairs, being for a number of years the seat of government.

This was the opening day—governor's day—and the city was honored by the presence of Governor Drake and staff, several ex-governors, Vice President Stevenson and a large number of other prominent citizens of the state and nation.

The day opened with a salute of guns at sunrise. At 9:30 a reception was tendered to Governor Drake, Vice President Stevenson and other distinguished guests at the hotel Delano.

At 10:30 the grand parade, consisting of the governor and staff and prominent guests, escorted by four companies of state militia, citizens in carriages and numerous handsome floats, illustrating the "march of Progress," passed through the principal streets, which were crowded with masses of people and profusely decorated.

At noon all the bells and whistles in the city broke forth in welcome to the visitors. The afternoon exercises, which were held in the large coliseum at Crapo park, where opened by Philip M. Crapo, president of the Iowa semi-centennial commission. An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Naumann. Governor Drake, as president of the day, also delivered an address of welcome and congratulation. Lafayette Young, of Des Moines, delivered the address of the day. The exercises closed with a dress parade. In the evening there will be a banquet at the Hotel Delano to a hundred guests.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 1.—Four trains brought the delegation from Portage county, Ohio, with greetings to Major McKinley. The first was a party from the southern part of the county, coming over the Pennsylvania lines in regular trains. The other three were specials of nine coaches each, over the Cincinnati, Columbus and Pittsburg. No demonstration was made till the last arrived, when a parade was organized. After a short march a meeting was held in the Tabernacle. The introductory address was delivered by S. P. Wolcott, ex-state senator from the Kent, Ohio, district.

THE STRIKE.

Situation on the Canadian Pacific is Serious.

Striking Dispatchers Appear to Have the Best of the Fight, Though the Officials Remain Firm.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 1.—No trains are moving regularly on the Canadian Pacific this morning except between Toronto and this city. There is talk of a compromise being effected between the strikers and the railroad. Rumors of sympathetic strikes of other branches of the trainmen's organizations are rife. The situation is serious. The road is using every inducement to hire operators to take the places of the strikers, but experiences great difficulty in getting competent men. At this season of the year the movement of grain from Manitoba is considerable and the Canadian Pacific has an unusual volume of freight business.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 1.—Grand Chief Powell, of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, left here last night and is expected to arrive at Montreal tomorrow morning to attend to the trouble on the Canadian Pacific. First Assistant Grand Chief Dolphin is expected to arrive in Winnipeg tomorrow to look after the affairs in that territory.

WOMAN'S CLUBS.

The Second Annual Convention Meets Today.

Two Hundred and Fifty Delegates Representing 117 Clubs, in Attendance.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 1.—The second annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Woman's clubs began here today in Unity church. About 250 delegates were present, 117 clubs being represented.

Mrs. N. Coe Stewart, of the Cleveland sorosis, welcomed the delegates, and Mrs. Lincoln responded, following with her annual address. Reports of officers were read and committees were appointed.

"What Can Ohio Women Do for Ohio Schools" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Charlotte Reeve, of Columbus. Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes made suggestions on the subject of traveling libraries.

BRIDE OF FIVE DAYS

Ends Her Life With a Bullet Through the Heart.

CAIRO, Ill., Oct. 1.—At 5 o'clock this morning Mrs. Fraser, a bride of five days, shot herself through the heart dying instantly. No reason can be given. The young couple were prominent in church and society, both members of the choir of the Church of the Redeemer, Episcopal, in which church they were married last week, going from the church to their handsome home, where the young bride now lies dead.

SUGAR REFINERY CLOSED.

Eight Hundred Men Temporarily Out of a Job.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 1.—The Spreckel's sugar refinery, operated by the sugar trust, has shut down for an indefinite period owing to dull trade. About 800 men are thrown out of employment by the closing of the establishment. The other refineries in this city under the same management are not affected, but it is reported that they, too, will curtail their production on account of dull trade.

A NEW TRIAL.

Scott Jackson Will Be Given Another Chance.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 1.—The appeal of Scott Jackson, condemned to be hung for the murder of Pearl Bryan, was heard by the court of appeals today on a petition for a new trial. Prosecutor Lockhart and the attorney general appeared for the commonwealth and L. J. Crawford for the defense. The decision was reversed.

J. W. Baxter, of Auburn, is in the city attending to legal business. He is a prominent democrat of DeKalb and gives most encouraging reports of the political outlook in that county. He says there are hundreds of silver republicans in DeKalb, and that the county will go for Bryan by 500 majority in November.

Miss Nancy Genty, of 227 West Superior street, today reported at the police headquarters the loss of a silver watch.

A horse owned by Dr. Caldwell died last night and was hauled away this morning by Poundmaster Treinmel.

BAD WRECK.

Two Railroad Locomotives Are Smashed to Scrap Iron.

Freight Trains Collided Near Pittsburg With Fatal Results—One Man Killed and Others Injured.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 1.—Two freight trains collided last night at Philson, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, 121 miles east of Pittsburg, making one of the worst wrecks in the history of the road. One man is dead, two probably fatally wounded and several others missing. The latter are lying dead under the wreck almost beyond the shadow of doubt.

The grade at Philson is very heavy, the line descending at the rate of over 100 feet to the mile. The accident occurred at 10:30 o'clock last night. Fast freight east, No. 74, was scheduled to meet westbound freight, No. 95, at Philson. The latter train reached the siding and waited on the main track for the eastbound train.

Shortly after starting down the grade the crew of No. 74 lost control of the train. In an instant it was going at an express speed, and the crew decided to take chances by staying aboard rather than jump. As the train shot around the curve at Philson, the east bound train struck the other train, and every car on the former was thrown to the common center of the collision and ground to atoms. The engines were smashed to scrap iron. The other train was also badly wrecked, and debris was piled as high as the telegraph poles.

Searching crews worked all night, but abandoned it at daylight. Superintendent Cutter started for the scene, and will personally attend to the removing of the wreck. The property loss to the railroad company will reach many thousands of dollars. The names of the killed and injured have not yet been obtained.

The Baltimore and Ohio eastern express which left Pittsburg at 9 o'clock last night, was held at Rockwood, where the Somerset and Cambria branch to Johnstown intersects the main line. At daylight it was decided to advance the train to the scene of the wreck, where the passengers were transferred around the wreck. The Cleveland base ball club was on the express, bound for Baltimore to open the temple cup series of games. During the early morning it seemed that it would be impossible to reach Baltimore in time for the game, but the Baltimore and Ohio officials stated they would make an effort to get the club in Baltimore by 3:30 or 4 p. m. It is hardly probable, however, that a game will be played before tomorrow.

TWO BODIES RECOVERED.

Two bodies are reported to have been recovered so far and it is believed a number of others are still under the wreck. The wires are still down at points east of Bowman station, which is west of the wreck, and but meager details of the accident can be obtained. A special telegram to an afternoon paper, received from Cumberland, stated that the entire train crew, consisting of the engineer, fireman, conductor, two brakemen and a flagman, and two tramps, who were stealing a ride, were killed. Thirty-four cars, which were loaded with coal, together with the engine and caboose, are piled upon the track and traffic, both east and west, is entirely suspended.

WORSE THAN AT FIRST SUPPOSED.

A later Cumberland dispatch says: Up to 1 o'clock twelve tramps have been taken from the wreck, six of whom were dead. The remaining number were brought to this city and placed in the hospital and are in a serious condition.

One of the tramps stated that in the car in which he was riding there were ten companions, while another says that his car was occupied by eight others. Trainmen say that a number of men who had been attending the Bryan speaking yesterday and who were on their way to their homes in Myersdale, Pa., were riding on the bumpers, so it is thought that there are many still under the wreck. It is thought here that some of the men riding the bumpers cut off the air, thus causing the wreck. Among the train men injured were the following:

Engineer Zane, of train 74, perhaps fatally.
John Cornell, front brakeman, seriously injured.
Fireman Owen, seriously injured.
Fireman Shaw, bruised very badly.
Other trainmen were cut and bruised.

GONE TO THE WALL.

Failure of a Bank at Atlantic, Iowa.

ATLANTIC, Iowa, Oct. 1.—Frank H. Whitney and Whitney & Son, managers of the bank of Atlantic have gone to the wall. Coupled with the distressing failure is the announcement that F. H. Whitney, who is highly respected, is at the verge of death. He has been ill for several weeks, and this may account for the inability of the bank to tide over its difficulties. J. R. Bruff has been appointed receiver, and announced that the bank proper has $210,000 liabilities and assets of $175,000, composed of notes, bills and credits that cannot be made available at once. F. H. Whitney's assignment showed personal notes due his bank, mortgages and other debts aggregating $168,000. A schedule of assets shows $522,700. The other bankers of the city say the property will pay all claims in full. Whitney's property consists of office buildings and real estate in Atlantic, Kansas City, Birmingham, Ala., Nebraska, Colorado and Iowa.

BOTH GUILTY.

Bodewig and Johnson Must Go to the Pen.

They Stand Accused of Derailing an Express Train and Causing a Fatal Wreck.

DETROIT, Oct. 1.—The second trial of John C. Bodewig and William H. Johnson in the United district court, resulted today in a verdict of guilty against both defendants. They were tried for conspiring with others to obstruct the passage of the United States mail. On July 16, 1894, an express train was derailed two miles west of Battle Creek. One rail was found to have been moved and spiked fast a foot out of the line. The fireman of the train was killed in the accident. After many sensational developments a number of men were arrested and the defendants in this case made damaging statements which were used against them on the present trial. Their first trial was in connection with a man named Jewett. The latter was acquitted and the jury disagreed as to Bodewig and Johnson.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Captain Kolb Comes Out for Bryan and Sewall.

Ex-Governor Luce Returns to the Republican Party—An Important Combination.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 1.—Captain Reuben F. Kolb, father of the populist party in Alabama and editor of the People's Tribune, the organ of the party here, is out in an editorial over a column and a half in length, in which he comes out for Bryan and Sewall and the entire ticket and the democratic candidate for congress, throwing Watson overboard, with Dr. G. W. Crowe, the populist candidate for congress. He contends that the populists are for Bryan, but cannot do anything for him by voting for Bryan and Watson. Kolb and his lieutenant, Peyton C. Bowman, have been invited to take the stump in Indiana and Illinois for Bryan and Sewall, and it is probable they will accept.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 1.—Ex-Governor Cyrus G. Luce, of Michigan, widely quoted as having declared for William J. Bryan, has written a letter to a friend in Laporte, Ind., in which he authorizes a denial. He further says that while not in full accord with the declaration of the republican platform on the money question, yet he believes it his duty to vote for McKinley. He has received a thousand letters of inquiry, he says.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1.—The consolidation of the National Association of Democratic clubs and the Association of National Silver clubs has been finally perfected, and the latter organization will take active part in the big convention of the National Association of Democratic clubs to be held in the Auditorium Saturday next. Assistant Secretary McKean, of the National Association of Democratic clubs, has been authorized by President George P. Keeney, of the Association of National Silver clubs, to make all arrangements for the participation of the silver clubs at the convention and is now busy carrying out that program.

A STUBBORN FIRE.

Starts in a Clothing Store and Does $100,000 Damage.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 1.—A stubborn fire, which had its origin in the World clothing house, on Chestnut street, kept the firemen fighting for three hours today. Three stores were burned out, two being occupied by the clothing house and the other by Wm. Paschen's grocery house. The loss will probably exceed $100,000. Four members of engine company No. 2 were overcome and rendered insensible, but were taken out by their comrades in time to save their lives. Two of them were almost dead when carried from the building.

To Be Held in Fort Wayne Next Wednesday.

The republicans are arranging for a big rally to be held in this city next Wednesday. Hon. J. A. Mount, their candidate for governor, and John L. Griffith, the gold tongued orator, will be here to address the people. A big parade will take place in the evening.

LADIES IN POLITICS.

Members of the Carroll Club Addressed by S. M. Foster.

By Special Invitation He Delivers a Brilliant Speech on the Money Question.

Women can't vote but they can discuss politics all they want to. And, to the credit of the fair sex may it be said, that there is an almost universal desire on their part to learn all they can with reference to the great political questions of this very remarkable presidential year.

By special invitation of the Carroll Literary club Hon. S. M. Foster this afternoon addressed the club at the home of Mrs. D. C. Fisher on the monetary question. His remarks were extemporaneous and highly interesting and afforded the ladies a grand treat.

Mr. Foster took up the question from a non-partisan standpoint, and told all he could about the gold and silver issues of this campaign as claimed by each party and the different arguments of each one.

WORTHY CAUSE.

Entertainment for Benefit of St. Vincent de Paul's Society.

Proceeds Will Go to Help the Needy and Distressed the Coming Winter.

The E. M. C. club is preparing to present at Library hall on the evening of October 22, a drama in four acts, entitled, "More Sinned Against Than Sinning."

The entertainment is purely a benefit for St. Vincent de Paul Aid society, whose noble work in charity is well known. The society will no doubt have many calls to wait on the needy and distressed this winter, and the funds derived from this entertainment will go toward the good cause.

The E. M. C. club has been organized nearly a year, and has some promising histrionic talent.

ATE STARCH AND DIED.

Josie Jenkins Meets With a Peculiar Death.

Mrs. Christina Goebel Succumbs to Paralysis—Baby Adfield Dies of Convulsions.

Miss Josie Jenkins died at Latta, Ohio, yesterday morning, after an illness of several months. The deceased was a domestic, who for several years had been employed in this city. Two weeks ago she left Hope hospital for the home of her parents, at Latta, and nothing further was heard from her until yesterday, when a letter conveying the news of her death was received by the lady for whom Miss Jenkins formerly worked. The funeral will take place at Latta tomorrow afternoon.

The circumstances connected with the girl's death are peculiar. She was addicted to the habit of eating starch, frequently indulging in such quantities of the product as to cause serious stomach trouble. About three weeks ago she had an attack of more than usual intensity and was taken to Hope hospital for proper care. Inflammation of the bowels set in, but under skillful treatment of Dr. Barnett she recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home. Since then she suffered a relapse which ended fatally.

DIED OF PARALYSIS

Christina Goebel, an old resident, died last night of paralysis, after an illness of five days. Deceased came to Fort Wayne in 1854 and resided here ever since. Her age was seventy-three years. Two sons, Frank A. and E. S., survive her. The funeral will take place Sunday at 1:30 p. m. from the house, 219 Lafayette street, and at 2 o'clock from Salem Reformed church.

DIED OF CONVULSIONS.

Andrew, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Adfield, of No. 7 Duck street, died of convulsions this morning. The funeral will be held from the house at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

FUNERAL OF MRS. KEPLINGER.

The obsequies of Mrs. Harry D Keplinger will occur tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, 49 West Creighton avenue, Rev. A. K. Zartman, pastor of the Grace Reformed church, conducting the services.

ARBITRATION FAILS

To End the Strike of Miners at Leadville, Col.

LEADVILLE, Col., Oct. 1.—Every possibility of ending the strike by arbitration or other amicable means has disappeared for the time being at least, the Cloud City Miners' union having voted in regular meeting last night to continue indefinitely its fight for uniform wages of $3 per day for all of the men in all the mines. Two hundred members of the union have withdrawn and will seek work. The mine operators will fill the places of the strikers with outsiders as rapidly as possible and the state militia will probably be kept here a long time.

WITH WINCHESTERS.

Two Men Fight a Duel and Both are Killed.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Oct. 1.—Thomas Newkirk and Henry Ashcraft fought a duel last night with Winchesters on the long fork of Shelby creek. They were both suitors of Mary Dean. Both men were killed.

Caused a Panic.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 1.—A bomb explosion last evening caused a panic in the Yenikapou quarter and a cordon of troops was detailed to surround the Turkish quarters of Peronagha. It is believed that the military movement was made in connection with the arrest of Moslem agitators against the present regime.

ABANDONED HER.

Cordelia Buckwalter Given a Divorce From Her Husband

By Judge Dawson in the Superior Court—Arguments in the Fordham Case.

This afternoon, in the superior court, Judge Dawson heard the case of Cordelia A. Buckwalter against Joseph Buckwalter. Colerick & France appeared as attorneys for the plaintiff. They showed from the testimony that defendant had abandoned the plaintiff eight years ago, and the judge granted Mrs. Buckwalter a divorce.

The trial of the case of the state against L. M. Fordham, charged with an assault on Herman Hohnholz, was begun yesterday before Justice Tancey. Evidence was taken yesterday but was not completed, and the case was continued until this morning, when the hearing of the testimony was finished. The attorneys argued the case to the court this afternoon.

Justice France fined Sadie Cope $20 and costs for practicing midwifery without a license. Constable Roembke made the arrest this morning.

It was stated several days ago that a fight occurred in Mendel Frank's saloon. It has been since learned that the affair mentioned did not take place in the saloon, but in the alley near to the building.

A Peru jury estimated the damage to a blooming widow's heart at $4,500 in a breach of promise case against a seventy year old man, but the judge looked the widow over and concluded that $1,200 would be nearer the proper mark and he scaled the verdict down to that amount. The judge also held that the heart of a young girl that had never been trifled with is entitled to about three times the financial consideration of that of an experienced woman.

STORM ECHOES.

James Fitzgerald Found Dead in Ruins.

The Summer Resorts on the Georgia Coast Greatly Damaged by the Wind.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The first loss of life in Washington city from the storm was reported today, when the body of James Fitzgerald, a white man, was found in the ruins of the Beatty building, on Pennsylvania avenue. There were ten persons known to be in this building when it fell in, but they escaped without serious injury. Fitzgerald was a machinist in the navy yard.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 1.—J. S. Evans, assistant lighthouse keeper at Tybee, arrived in the city today and brings the first definite information of the damage on the island. The Chatham club house is unroofed. All of the improvements made by Bohan & Cowan, the pavilion bar, etc., are blown away. The electric light plant is safe. The Hotel Tybee is damaged but slightly, comparatively speaking—windows are gone and other small damage done. The Zoraday club is very slightly hurt. The Catholic chapel is demolished. All of the new cottages escaped with slight injury. Verandas and windows are blown off the Atlantic club.

The waterworks, where the Ocean house used to be, are badly damaged. A wheel blown from them crashed through the house of Chief of Police Nail, but struck no one. The Nail home is quite badly hurt. Kehoe's cottage has lost all its windows and Sullivan's cottage has lost its roof. The Naylor house escaped with slight damage. Solomon's cottage has had its roof and piazzas blown away and the cottages in Butlerville are more or less injured. Mayor Ryan's cottage has lost its roof. Except the loss of fencing, the lighthouse is all right. At Martello tower the flag pole is injured, windows were blown in and the furniture was flooded with water. The Rambler club is unharmed. The Lacy building is badly hurt. The Blazes cottage is wrecked. The railroad trestle near the lighthouse is badly undermined. The bridge of St. Augustine creek is out of gear; trains cannot pass over. Near Estill's station the track is badly wrecked. All the fishermen's wharves and all their boats are gone. Grogan's is all right. The wind blew 108 miles. No one was hurt on Tybee.

Reorganization of the Huntington United Workmen—Fort Wayne Members Participate.

In referring to the reorganization of Wabash Valley lodge, No. 44, of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, of Huntington, the News, of that place says:

"The Fort Wayne lodges sent down twenty-eight men to conduct the initiatory ceremonies. The manner in which these gentlemen did the work is very highly spoken of by the new members. (That is to say the visitors must have used them rather tenderly.)

"Grand officers present were: Grand Master Workman T. D. Neal, of Frankton, Ind.; Grand Foreman G. R. Hench, of Fort Wayne; Grand Guide H. C. Baxter, of Auburn.

"A noteworthy incident of the meeting and one which was mentioned by Grand Master Workman Neal, in his address, was the presence in the lodge room of representatives of three generations, all of whom were now members of the order. The persons in question being H. H. Eggleston, of Meadville, Pa., a member of Jefferson lodge, No. 1, the first lodge of this order to be organized. His son, William O. A NECESSITY

For the Health and Comfort of the Children.

Realizing the dire need of proper ventilation in our county schools we have investigated the new apparatus recently placed in District No. 4, Wayne township, and we find it indeed what its name implies, an ideal heater and ventilator. Ideal, because simple and very effective, warming the room all over alike, furnishing an abundant supply of fresh air warmed to any degree required and removing the foul air from the base of the room, thus keeping the atmosphere in the room at all times pure and invigorating. The children's feet are always warm and they are in a condition for effective work. Mr. Schneitzer deserves great credit for this long stride in the right direction. The county superintendent is in full sympathy with him in this advance movement by the Peck, Williamson Heating and Ventilating company, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

BOUGHT 'EM FOR "BILL."

John Churchill's Lame Excuse for Having Burglars' Tools.

A Suspicious Trio Sent to Jail—They Had Pocket Knives and Razors.

This morning the three suspicious characters arrested last Tuesday on suspicion of being crooks were taken before Mayor Scherer for hearing. The prisoners are all men under thirty-five years of age, of the type who exert themselves to avoid honest labor. The most telling evidence against them was the goods found in their possession. Among other things there were twenty pocket knives, several razors, a chisel and several drills.

Prosecutor Doughman put the accused men under a hot fire of questioning. The man giving the name of John Churchill, who talks glibly with a bowery twist of the tongue, was chief spokesman and he endeavored to convince the court that all were honest men and wanted to work, but the testimony showed that they had not labored for two years or more, and that they came here together on a freight train with the apparent intention of engaging in doubtful pursuits. Churchill tried to explain that he had bought the drills for a boilermaker named "Bill," whose other name he did not know. It was clear to the mayor, the prosecutor and everybody else that the aforesaid "Bill" existed only in the fertile brain of the prisoner and came to the natural conclusion that the drills were purchased for some evil purpose. Therefore a fine of $15 and costs was assessed against each of them, in default of which they went to jail.

In the meantime it is thought more convincing evidence can be gathered against them. If these men are not crooks indications are misleading. Two of them, giving the supposed fictitious names of John Churchill and Bud McGardle, were arrested by Officer Knock. In another section of the city about the same time Sergeant Dessler arrested the third one, giving the name of Victor Churchill. At first the latter professed to have no acquaintance with the other two but in police court this morning the testimony given by another of the gang showed that they came here together; that they had nothing in view by coming here unless it was to engage in crooked work, and that they had no reasonable excuse for carrying about in their pockets such goods as they had.

After court adjourned the mayor, prosecutor and superintendent of police met and decided to arrest every suspicious character. It is considered to be a good aid toward suppressing crime.

OTHER SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.

Officer Paul arrested two other suspicious characters near the Wabash freight house last night. One gave the name of Reval Iliff and the other as William Smith. The most suspicious thing about Smith, was a horse pistol fourteen inches long, which would cause an ordinary mortal to have spinal complaint to carry around. Both prisoners were sent to jail.

The Sons of Columbus formally opened their social season at the hall last evening by giving a progressive pedro party and rendering a literary and musical program. It was a success from every standpoint. The organization will have a season of unusual activity, owing to the increased membership since last winter. Mr. McKinley repays the friendship which the railroads are showing him by staying at home and compelling thousands of persons who desire to see him to pay tribute to the carrying corporations. Mr. Bryan saves the hundreds of thousands of people who desire to see him the payment of this tribute to the railroads and visits them at their own home towns and cities.

The Eureka Athletic club, which promised to put up $6,000 for the Corbett-Sharkey mill, failed to come up with the money. Like backers, like principals.

Inventors may talk of air ships as much as they please, but it must be conceded that the bicycle is really the best flying machine which has been invented up to date.

The Chinese element has extended itself until now there are more than 10,000 Celestials in and around New York city, and we are told that 270 of these are professed Christians. Five hundred are enlisted in Sunday schools and the day school in New York has had during the past year an enrollment of fifty-one.

The reported discovery in South Africa of a flower which in the morning appears to be red, at noon white and at night blue, provokes the happy suggestion that all trouble in selecting a national flower should now be over. It is to be hoped that botanists may find that our colors thus discovered in nature may be found to grow in the same form in the more northern latitudes.

The action of the populists in withdrawing ten of their electors and substituting for them ten electors of the democrats may be looked upon as the first step toward a complete fusion between the two parties in this state. The proposition which led to this action came from the democrats and was accepted by the populists. It is understood that the populists will withdraw their state ticket. Already there has been fusion in many of the congressional districts.

Hon. John Overmyer, of North Vernon, Ind., who speaks at Saengerbund hall on Saturday evening of this week, is one of the best speakers in the state. He was until recently a prominent republican. He was at one time republican state chairman and was a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1888. He is a prominent banker of the state, but a very earnest and sincere worker for the cause of free silver.

A Norwegian by name Borchgrevinck is credited with having discovered a new continent in the Antarctic circle larger than the whole of Europe. At the recent Independent Geographical congress in London, England, he gave a report of the new country. He estimates that it extends over about eight million square miles, and the climate ranged from twenty-eight to forty-six degrees in temperature. Specimens of rock which he showed give evidence of probable mineral resources. The land was thickly covered by penguins and there appeared traces of vegetation.

For eighty-one years this country had the free coinage of gold and silver. In 1873 this right was taken from silver and allowed to be retained by gold. Silver now is simply asking for a restoration of its rights—equal privileges with its rival, both of which have been the money metals of the world for centuries. This is the plain, well defined issue in the present political campaign. The white metal is only pleading for equal rights at the hands of the government. Continue at our mints the free coinage of gold and silver, as it was prior to 1873, and the silver dollar will be the equal, in face as well as bullion value, of the gold dollar, and good times will return.

What Makes Hard Times?

The Atlanta Constitution gives the following figures: Amount spent by Americans in the last twelve months for whisky is $609,000,000. Spent during the same time for beer, $617,253,000. Spent during same time for cigars and tobacco, $275,750,000. Amounting in all to $1,501,978,000.

This is more than the entire volume of money in circulation in the country. It is $27 per capita, more than the present per capita circulation. It is $195 a year for each head of a family in the United States.

This money would pay for all the appropriations of a billion dollar congress and leave enough to more than half pay the expenses of another such congress. It would pay six times over for the American cotton crop. It would pay the cost of a long foreign war. It would feed and clothe in a plain fashion every family in the United States.

This is simply a statement of facts which must open the eyes of men to the true explanation of most of the poverty and suffering now prevailing.

It Is Lack of Cash.

The farmer, manufacturer, and all who work for wages, realize that there is something wrong. Some say it is a lack of confidence. That may be so, as a lack of confidence always prevails under contraction of the currency, and, besides the locking up of money, there has been a fearful decline of its volume in three years. But a lack of confidence does not prevent a farmer from buying a windmill, or plow, or harrow, or a fanning mill, or from clothing his family in good shape, but a lack of cash. It is a question of finance with him. He fails to buy things freely because he hasn't the money. Lack of confidence is a false pretense. The sole reason is a lack of cash. The gold standard has cut the price of everything he raises in two. He must retrench because his crops, measured in price by gold, bring only half as much as they used to. This affects disastrously the manufacturer. He can't sell as many goods. A lack of business compels him to reduce his output. With falling prices for farmers they have less money to spend for goods. The manufacturer cannot keep on without customers. Then the misfortune which the gold standard has brought to the farmer and manufacturer reaches the wage earner. There is less work to be done. Thus farmer, manufacturer and wage earner are having it ground into them that something is wrong—that even a plenty of everything, with a lack of cash, is a misfortune. So, after many years' experience under the gold standard, with times growing harder, they are coming to the conclusion in droves that a vote for the rehabilitation of silver is a vote to give better prices to the farmer, will give him more cash and a broader basis for confidence, will set the wheels of factories running, and will furnish larger employment to wage earners.

American people will not be proud of the fact that the owner of Sunnyside, Washington Irving's home on the Hudson at Tarrytown, has at last felt obliged to close its gates against the public. For many a year the hospitable proprietor has let them stand wide open that every tourist and stranger, in affectionate remembrance of the great American author, might walk or drive in and see the home which he loved so well. But bicyclists turned the beautiful walks and lawn into a rendezvous for a mob. They lunched under the trees; they trampled on the grass; they threw bones, papers, boxes, grease and scraps of food about the beautiful lawn. And now the owner, a grandnephew of Irving, regretfully announces that the bums have fairly driven him out of house and home and he can endure it no longer. The gates of Sunnyside are closed henceforth. How proud the bicycling bums must feel of themselves!

By the end of this century there will scarcely be an Alaskan fur seal left except as a curiosity in museums. The United States has done all it could to preserve this valuable and useful creature, but other nations would not join us. Canadian hogs and some hogs of our own have been the worst murderers of the seal. Soon there will be no more sealskin cloaks.

Choice Recipes of the Bay View Assembly Cooking School for Our Readers.

The Sentinel has secured for its readers the choice recipes of the Bay View Assembly Cooking school, as prepared by Miss Colling, one of the most prominent demonstrators of the day. She was a graduate from the Philadelphia cooking school with the highest honors of her class, and has been identified with this popular art for some time. She is also a graduate of the Boston school of cookery.

The publication of these recipes will continue on each Thursday for three weeks. The following are given today:

MEAT BALLS

Form balls about the size of a large marble from beef pulp prepared as for beef sandwiches. Heat a skillet quite hot, sprinkle lightly with salt, place a few of the balls in the skillet and keep in constant motion over the fire until the beef has changed color, and they are ready to serve.

SWEDISH TIMBALES.

Two eggs, one cup of milk, from one and a half to two cups of flour, one half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of olive oil.

Beat the egg until light, add the milk, then the flour; stir until thoroughly mixed, add the salt and last of all the olive oil; a Dover egg beater may be used for the entire process; fry on a timbale iron.

SALISBURY STEAK.

Form small cakes from beef pulp similar to that used in the beef sandwiches, pressing them into shape with as little force as possible. Heat a skillet, grease it with a piece of beef suet, place the steaks, a few at a time, on the skillet, brown on one side, turn carefully and brown on the other side, and it is ready to serve. This may also be broiled on a wire broiler.

FRENCH FROZEN PUDDING.

Separate six eggs. Put over the fire one pint of sugar and one pint of boiling water which has been stirred until the sugar is partly dissolved. Bring to boiling point and boil for five minutes. Beat the yolks of the eggs until creamy. Pour over them the boiling syrup and beat until cold; then add one pint of cream and one tablespoonful of vanilla. Freeze in a freezer like ice cream.

BARTHOLOMEW'S FOOD.

Place one cup of milk in a double boiler, add to it while cold two level tablespoonfuls of sago; stir occasionally; and when quite clear add to it one cup of beef tea. When thoroughly heated stir in the yolks of two eggs; remove at once from the fire, add seasoning and serve. This may be reheated, by placing in a cup, setting the cup in hot water on the stove, and keep stirring until hot.

OMELETTE SOUFFLE.

Whites of two eggs, yolk of one egg, one rounding tablespoonful of powdered sugar, one teaspoonful of vanilla.

Beat the yolk until light, add to it the vanilla, then beat the white until stiff, add the powdered sugar and beat until very stiff; pour over this the yolk and vanilla, stir until thoroughly mixed, place in a lightly greased dish, and bake in a moderate oven about five minutes.

WATER SPONGE CAKE.

Beat the yolks of six eggs, and two cups of fine granulated sugar together for fifteen minutes, then add one cup of boiling water, and stir until mixed. Then add two and a half cups of sifted flour with two and a half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted through it, and stir until mixed. Then add one teaspoonful of vanilla, or a tablespoonful of lemon juice, and last of all the well beaten whites of four eggs.

STUFFED POTATOES.

Bake six good sized potatoes; when done cut in two lengthwise, and with a spoon scoop out the potato into a hot bowl. Mash fine and add one tablespoonful of butter, one half cup of hot milk, a teaspoonful of salt, and white pepper to taste; beat until very light, and then add the well beaten whites of two eggs; stir in carefully; fill the skins with this mixture, brush over with the yolk of the eggs and place in the oven until brown—about fifteen minutes.

CREAM MACARONI WITH CHEESE.

One-fourth pound of grated cheese, one-fourth pound of macaroni, one cup of milk, two level tablespoonfuls of flour, one half teaspoonful salt, a few grains of Cayenne pepper.

Break the macaroni into one inch pieces, drop slowly into about two quarts of boiling salted water. Allow it to boil rapidly for about twenty-five minutes. While boiling, grate the cheese and make the cream sauce. Put into a double boiler the milk, rub the butter and flour together, add them to the boiling milk, stir until it thickens, then add the salt and Cayenne; when the macaroni is tender turn into a colander, add to the cream sauce, and just before serving add the cheese and stir until it has melted.

MUFFINS.

Two and one half cups of flour, two and one half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one fourth teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cup of milk, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one egg.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, beat the egg until light, add the milk to it and pour them over the dry ingredients; add the melted butter and stir to a smooth batter; place in the gem pans and bake from fifteen to twenty minutes.

PEACH SHORTCAKE.

One quart of sifted flour, two rounding, or four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one level teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, two rounding or four level tablespoonfuls of butter, two-thirds of a pint of milk.

Sift the flour, salt and baking powder together, then add the sugar and stir, then rub in the butter, add the milk all at once, and stir to a smooth dough. Place in the pan and press out with the fingers, and bake for fifteen or twenty minutes.

BISCUITS.

Three cups of flour, three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one level teaspoonful of salt, one and a fourth cups, scant, of milk. Sift the flour, salt and baking powder, then add the milk all at once; mix with a knife to a smooth dough, then cut several times with a knife and turn out on a well floured board; cover lightly with flour and roll out about half an inch thick. Cut with a small cutter and place in a pan close together. Wash lightly over the top with melted butter, and bake from ten to twelve minutes.

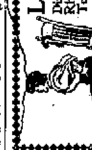

SHIRRED EGGS.

Toast slices of bread a delicate brown, butter slightly, and for each slice of bread use one egg. Divide the eggs, leaving the yolks in one half the shell and setting them in a dish of salt, or some similar material while beating up the whites. Beat the whites until light, season lightly with salt and pepper, heap onto the toast, make a slight depression in the center, add a very small piece of butter and then turn into the depression one of the yolks. Place in a dripping pan and set in the oven for two minutes, or until a delicate brown, and they are ready to serve.

POTATOES AU GRATIN.

Five cold boiled potatoes, one pint milk, four level tablespoonfuls of butter, four level tablespoonfuls of flour, one half teaspoonful of salt, one half saltspoonful of white pepper, one half cup of bread or cracker crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter.

Cut the potatoes into half inch dice; there should be one quart by measure. Season with salt and pepper. Put in a baking pan, pour over them a sauce made by melting four tablespoonfuls of butter, adding the flour, and stirring until thoroughly mixed; stir this into the milk, which has been brought to boiling point in a double boiler. Stir until it thickens, then add the salt and pepper. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, stir through the crumbs and spread lightly over the top. Bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are a delicate brown.

NARROW ESCAPE

From Death of General Nelson A. Miles and Party.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, the commander of the army of the United States, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon while driving on the hill leading from the Cliff house to the Ocean beach. He owes his life to the coolness and agility displayed by Col. Amos S. Kimball, chief quartermaster of the department of California, and W. A. McKittrick, of Bakersfield, a son in law of Col. William Shafter. After inspecting the water works plant at the Presidio, General Miles and a party of friends started for town in order to catch the train for the south. While going down a steep grade the pole of the carriage in which the commanding general was riding broke short off near the axle and frightened the team. The vehicle was dashed against the bluff and the driver thrown from his seat between the plunging and kicking animals, but Colonel Kimball and Mr. McKittrick jumped out and rushed to the horses' heads just in time to prevent their bolting down the hill to almost certain destruction.

DAMAGING STORM

A Hurricane Struck Baltimore at Midnight.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 30.—A severe hurricane struck this city at midnight last night. Houses were unroofed, wires prostrated, windows smashed and sign boards blown from their fastenings. The high wind forced the water in the harbor up into the bed of the streets, and almost the entire northern water front is submerged. Several schooners that were tied up at the Pratt street wharf broke from their moorings and are resting in the middle of Pratt street. The lower floors and cellars of warehouses were flooded. The storm was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain.

SAILORS DROWNED

By an Accident to a Boat on the Lakes.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.—The barge Sumatra, consort of E. W. Arnold, bound down from Chicago with a load of railroad iron, foundered off the government pier here this morning. Four sailors were drowned. The captain and mate and cook were rescued by the life saving crew. The members of the crew lost were: Arthur Burnsted, West Bay City, Mich.; Charles Hemmer, West Bay City, Mich.; Patrick Peterson, West Bay City; Peter Anderson, West Bay City. The rescued are: Capt. Charles Johnson, West Bay City; John Burbeck, mate of the barge, West Bay City; Ira Purser, cook, West Bay City.

WHY AM I SO TIRED?

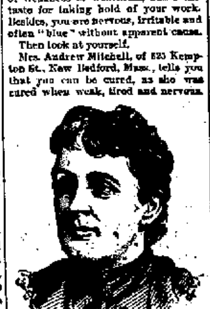

Why Do I Feel So Weak and Run Down?

Your Poor Condition Is Made Worse by Nervous Debility. Science Prescribes a Certain Remedy.

You have lost your old-time snap and vim. Work that you used to do with ease, now tires you. You often feel dull, dispirited and without ambition. You pass more or less sleepless nights, wake mornings, tired and unrefreshed, have little or no appetite for breakfast, your head feels dull, there is a bad taste in the mouth, and your bowels are constipated. You go about your employment with a sense of weakness or weariness, and a distaste for taking hold of your work. Besides, you are nervous, irritable and often "blue" without apparent cause.

Then look at yourself.

Mrs. Andrew Mitchell, of 525 Kempton St., New Bedford, Mass., tells you that you can be cured, as she was cured when weak, tired and nervous.

MRS. ANDREW MITCHELL.

She took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, finding that it improved her condition at once. She was so much benefitted by the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura that she says she "can not say enough in praise of it," and she urges all her friends to give it a trial.

This wonderful restorative, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, will give back to the weakened and exhausted system the strength it has lost. It will impart strength and vigor to the brain and nerves, vitalize and invigorate all the physical powers and restore you again to that grand degree of lusty strength, of bounding pulse, and strong physical and nerve power, which, by overwork, ignorance or folly, you have exhausted.

It is not a patent medicine but the prescription of the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th Street, New York City, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

GOLD VS. SILVER.

A Public Debate on the Free Coinage Question.

The Silver Republican Club Issues a Challenge to Hold One for a Joint Discussion.

If the advocates of the single gold standard desire to ventilate their views on the money question in such a way that argument can be met with argument on the part of those who believe that silver should be given equal rights under the law with the yellow metal, the silver republican club of this city will give them the opportunity to do so.

This latter organization is composed of a number of republicans in this city who believe in the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. They believe that right and justice and argument are on their side and they are not afraid to meet their opponents in a public debate on this proposition, and let the voter decide for himself which financial policy is the better for the United States to adopt.

For these reasons they are desirous of arranging a public discussion of this monetary question and have issued the following challenge:

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 1, 1896.

Editor Sentinel:

Inasmuch as the present monetary conflict is the all absorbing topic, and, in order to give our voters the advantage of a discussion of the points at issue, we, the Republican Silver club, of Fort Wayne, Ind., hereby challenge any gold standard democrat or republican of Allen county to a joint debate with a speaker to be selected by this club, on the following conditions:

1. The discussion shall be a running debate of ten minutes each.

2. No subject shall be allowed to be presented except it bear directly upon the subject of free coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1.

3. Any law that bears directly or indirectly upon the money question can be discussed.

SHORT CROP NEWS

From India Sends the Price of American Wheat Up.

December Wheat Goes Up and Down and Finally Settles at Sixty-Nine and a Half.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Wheat started on a rampage again this morning December opening at 68½@69c and making an advance of ½c. The news which seemed to affect the market most was the renewed reports of California engagements of wheat for shipment to India, apparently confirming the reports of crop shortage in that country, and Pillsbury's threshing returns from which a crop of 107,000,000 bushels was estimated, against 200,000,000 bushels last year. English houses again accepted a good deal of wheat. Cables were all higher, though Liverpool did not show the advance expected. Northwest receipts were heavy, 996 cars against 1,039 last year. After advancing to 69½c, realizing sales brought about a reaction to 69¼c, but the price soon soared up again to 69½@¾c.

Corn as usual followed slowly in the wake of wheat. Trading was quiet, interest being centered almost entirely in the wheat pit. May opened ⅛c higher at 25¾c, and advanced to 26⅛c.

Oats were also favorably affected. May opened a shade higher at 19⅞@19⅞c, and advanced to 19⅞@20c.

Provisions showed but little change at the opening but developed strength later with the grain markets.

January pork opened unchanged at $6.97½, and advanced to $7.15.

January lard opened 2½c lower at $4.07½, advancing to $4.15.

January ribs opened 2½c higher at $3.35, and advanced to $3.50.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Wheat—Oct., 66¼c; Dec., 69¼c; May, 72½@72⅝c.

Corn—Oct., 22½c; Dec., 23½@23⅝c; May, 26½@26⅝c.

Oats—Oct., 18c; Dec., 18½@18⅝c; May, 20½@20⅝c.

Pork—Oct., $6.45; Dec., $6.50; Jan., $7.30.

Lard—Oct., $4.02½; Dec., $4.10; Jan., $4.20.

Ribs—Oct. and Dec., $3.22½; Jan., $3.50@3.62½.

No Game Today.

Baltimore, Oct. 1.—The first Temple cup game between Cleveland and Baltimore has been postponed until tomorrow, owing to delay experienced by the Cleveland team.

The Ladies' Missionary meeting of the Jefferson street Church of Christ will be held at the church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The members and their friends are urged to be present at the meeting.

THREE FEET LONG.

The Largest Loaves of Bread Baked in the World.

The largest loaves of bread baked in the world are those of France and Italy. The "pipe" bread of Italy is baked in loaves two and three feet long, while in France the loaves are made in the shape of very long rolls four or five feet in length and in many cases even six feet.

The bread of Paris is distributed almost exclusively by women, who go to the various bakehouses at 5:30 a. m. and spend about an hour brushing and polishing the loaves.

After the loaves are thoroughly cleaned of dust and grit the women proceed on the round of her customers. Those who live in apartments or flats find their loaves leaning against the door. Restaurateurs and those having street entrances to their premises find their supply of the staff of life propped up against the front door. The wages earned by these bread carriers vary from 50 cents to 60 cents of our money, and their day's work is completed by 10 or 11 o'clock in the morning.—Cleveland World.

The bloodiest tyrant of modern times is Weyler, captain general of Cuba, who ordered 41 prisoners of war to be murdered on a Sunday morning.

LONDON "TOSHERS."

Go Through the Sewers in Search of Articles of Value.

Shoremen, or shoreworkers, they sometimes call themselves, but their most familiar appellation is "toshers," and the articles they pick up "tosh." They really belong to another well-known class, the mudlarks, but consider themselves a grade or two above these latter, for the genuine tosher does not confine himself as they do, traveling through the Thames mud and picking up odd pieces of coal or wood, copper nails, bolts, iron and old rope. The tosher, when the coast is clear of the police, makes his way into the sewers, and will venture sometimes for miles in quest of valuables that occasionally find their way into them by the kitchen sink or the street grating. When about to enter the sewers these men provide themselves with a pole seven or eight feet long, on one end of which there is a large iron hoe, a bag carried on the back, a canvas apron tied around them, and a dark lantern, similar to a policeman's. This they strap on their right breast, so that while walking upright through the large sewers the light is thrown straight in front. When they come to the branch sewers and have to stoop, the light is thrown directly at their feet. As they make their way they use their hoe in the mud at their feet and in the crevices of the brickwork, and occasionally shillings and silver spoons find a temporary resting place in the bag at their back or in their capacious coat pockets. The toshers generally go in gangs of three or four, both for the sake of company and to be able to defend themselves from the rats with which the sewers swarm. When they come near a street grating they close their lantern and watch an opportunity to slip past unnoticed, for otherwise a crowd of people might collect at the grating, whose presence would put the police on the alert. They find great quantities of money, copper money especially, in the crevices of the brickwork a little below the grating, and not infrequently shillings, half-crowns and sixpences, with an occasional sovereign or half-sovereign. When "in luck" they find many articles of plate, spoons, ladles, silver-handled knives and forks, mugs and drinking cups, and now and then articles of jewelry. They generally also manage to fill their bags with the more bulky articles found in the search, such as old metal, bones and ropes. These they dispose of to marine store dealers and rag-and-bone men, and divide the proceeds, along with the coins found, among the different members of the gang. At one time the regular toshers used to earn from $6 to $8 a week each, but with the construction of new sewers, grated at the mouth, their industry is not so easily exercised, and is consequently much less profitable.—London Mail.

SIGN STATE OF INDIANA.

Many women are unprepared for the birth of their babies as if they were found on the doorstep in the good, old-fashioned way. Nine-tenths of all the suffering incident to the coming of baby, is absolutely unnecessary. It is unnatural that this great function should be fraught with so much danger and distress. This was Dr. Pierce's conviction thirty years ago, and he set about to find a way to set the trouble right. The result was the preparation and introduction of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only medicine of its kind devised by a regularly graduated, experienced and skillful specialist in the treatment of the diseases of women,—the only medicine in the world that frees the period of gestation from its discomforts, and makes parturition safe and practically painless. It is an absolute specific for all forms of female weakness and disease. It may be obtained at drug stores, and any woman who would like to know all about it, or who would like to have advice about her health, should write to Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Any woman who is sallow and bilious and headachey, who does not sleep well, and who is troubled with any form of indigestion can do no better thing than to try the effect of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are the only positive and permanent cure for constipation. They stimulate the action of the liver and assist Nature in getting rid of impurities. You do not become a slave to their use. Take them until the regular, healthy action of the bowels has been restored and then quit. They are the only remedy of their kind that is a real remedy. They do not cause griping or any other unpleasant feeling. Don't let your druggist impose upon you and substitute something which he says is "just as good."

PRACTICAL RESULTS.

1—"Come to my arms," the lover sang,
(Or rather howled—he could not sing),
As he beneath her picture stood.
"Thou art my queen: call me thy king!"

2—His voice swelled throughout the room:
"Thee I do love o'er everything."
The canvas shrunk, so did the frame:
His harsh notes withered e'en the string.

3—The picture fell down off the wall,
And all downwards struck his head.
His eyes beheld ten thousand stars.
That walls and ceiling seemed to shed.

4—"I asked you to come to my arms:
Not throw yourself around my neck."
And then he gave an awful gasp,
And breathed his last, among the wreck.

RAILWAYS AND SHOPS.

A Freight Wreck Blocks the Pittsburg Tracks.

A Fireman's Vivid Dream of a Wreck —The Lake Erie's Paying Freight Business.

There was a freight wreck on the Pittsburg, a half mile west of the railway crossing at Columbia City, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. One of the wheels under a car loaded with hay, in the third section of train No. 75, broke and caused the derailment of twelve cars, eight of which were loaded. Some of the cars were badly damaged, while others were not in the least injured. Three hundred feet of track were also torn up and, so completely blocked were the tracks that traffic was suspended at that point for several hours. The second and third sections of No 7, which were eight hours late on account of the damage to the tracks east of Pittsburg by the high waters, were further delayed three hours; No 9 was delayed one hour, No. 5 thirty minutes, No. 4 one hour and; No. 6 twenty five minutes. Freight trains were also delayed from one to four hours. Nobody was injured.

A PAYING BUSINESS.

The Indianapolis News says: "A. G. Young, assistant general freight agent of the Lake Erie and Western, says the trains on the Fort Wayne division pay over a dollar a train mile, and that is more than many trains on more pretentious roads pay. The train that arrives in Indianapolis at 10:20 a. m. and the one that leaves here at 1:20 p. m.," said Mr. Young, "are the best paying trains that come into the union station. I mean, taking into consideration the equipment and the kind of trains they are. They are not quite so fancy as some of the trains on the other roads, but they do a heavy local business and bring in the revenue."

It is stated that the reorganization plan of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago is about perfected, and will be given to the stock and bondholders within a few days.

Jerre O'Connors and Denis A. Welford, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, are off duty today, the former on account of sickness and the latter on account of private business.

The Illinois Central's new elevator at New Orleans, of 1,000,000 bushel capacity, is completed and will next week begin to receive grain, greatly increasing the facilities of the company.

The Wabash carried thirty veterans to Huntington this morning to attend the reunion of an Indiana regiment. The Betterson band, which is composed of eleven brothers and one girl, accompanied the veterans.

General Superintendent A. W. Johnson and Superintendent of Motive Power John McKinsie, of the Nickel Plate, came in here in a special car at 2 o'clock yesterday and remained until 7 o'clock this morning, when they left for Chicago.

H. A. Darnell, the well known Pennsylvania engineer, yesterday received six bass from Rome City, the entire weight of the lot being fourteen and a half pounds. The largest fish weighed six and a quarter pounds. The bass were caught in Little lake by S. W. Dodge.

The Wabash, in order to bring expenses within bounds, this morning put its switch engines and crews at this point on short time. The force was further reduced by sending one of the night men to Andrews to work until his services are again required in the Fort Wayne yards.

Fireman Charles Davidson, of the Nickel Plate, invested twelve cents in horse flesh in Stony Island and reaped a profit of $40 within two weeks. If his investment proved profitable, he agreed to buy a suit of clothes for his engineer, McCarthy, and true to his promise, he presented that gentleman with a handsome suit yesterday.

The net earnings of the Burlington for the month of August were $440,651; a decrease of $33,260 from the same month of last year. The net earnings of the road from the first of the year to August 31 were $251,053, an increase of $134,215 over the earnings of the same period last year, when the net earnings of the road showed a deficit of $81,162.

The Santa Fe fast train, which is to be put on November 4 between Chicago and San Francisco, will be run but twice a week, leaving Chicago on Wednesday and Saturday. Last year, during the winter months, it was run daily, but was not profitable, consequently, like the Southern Pacific, but two trains each way will be run weekly.

The announcement was made at the meeting of the Railroad McKinley club last evening that arrangements for the excursion to Canton next Saturday had been completed. The Pennsylvania employes will travel in the first section of the train and the others will go on the second section. The tickets for the latter train will be made at party rates of $1 per head. The trains will leave at 5 o'clock and reach Canton at 11:30.

Albert Ingalls, third son of President Ingalls, on Monday began his railroad career, entering the office of C. E. Schaff, general manager of the Big Four, he proposing to learn the business. George Ingalls, another son, has been for two years with George Stevens, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and is showing marked ability already in the line of railway service.

A very important road from New Orleans to Atlanta, to be a perfect air line, has been projected by capitalists of the former city. It would be 169 miles shorter than any line now operated and lessen the time of passenger trains between New Orleans and New York six hours and freight trains twelve hours. The road is to be built entirely independent of the Southern railway or the Seaboard Air Line.

The Chicago and Rock Island has everything in readiness and on October 1 will introduce the merit system of promoting employes. General Superintendent Hitt in speaking of it said that the plan had been tried on other roads and he could see no good reason why it would not be a good thing for the Rock Island. Wherever it has been tried it has been unanimously approved by the employes as well as by the officers.

Fireman Joe Harber rushed into the Nickel Plate round house with his lunch basket, ready for a trip, at 3:45 o'clock yesterday morning, and inquired "Where is the wreck?" As no wreck has occurred on that road for two or three months, the round house men gave Harber the laugh. He dreamed that he had been called by the caller to go out with the wreck train and when he awakened he dressed himself in great haste and hurried to the round house.

NOW THE SLEEP CURE

SLUMBER AS A MEDICINE AND TONIC FOR MANKIND.

Some One Has Discovered That Sleep Is Better Than a Vacation—Complete Bodily Rest as Good as a Change of Scene. What Nicola Tesla Says.

Following the recently revived Kneipp cure comes the sleep cure.

It is suggested that what some people want is sleep holidays. They do not need to go to watering places and summer hotels and to be entertained by a round of gayety, with a band always playing. The apostles of the new method say that many people would be benefited if they just went to bed and slept for lengthened periods and that they might do well to take holidays in just that way. They affirm that as a rule men and women and children do not get sleep enough and that the old adage, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy and wealthy and wise," needs changing. There need be no reference to early rising in it. For "early to rise," it might be "late to rise."

The advice of that old saw was conceded, they say, in days when there were no express trains, no telephones, no telegraphs, no hurry. Where is the use of telling people to get up early whose brains are racked by anxiety and worry and who are being hurried up by the ever increasing rate at which things have to be done?

The proper thing to say to them is to get as much sleep as they possibly can on every possible occasion. The suggestion of occasional sleep holidays, when worried people of this kind could temporarily shuffle off their mortal coil, is on this understanding quite intelligible. There would be no difficulty in making arrangements to carry the scheme out. The proprietors of the summer resorts would no doubt be glad to provide accommodation for any number of somnolent guests.

The prevailing question would not be, "What is there for dinner?" but, "Is my bed ready?" There would be memoranda as to the length of time sleep had been indulged in or was desired to continue. "Mr. A. came on Saturday. He is to be called on Wednesday night." "Mrs. B. will sleep for one week," etc. No doubt, if the fad were started, establishments would vie with each other in the perfection of their sleeping preparations, and we should be told that absolutely unbroken repose for any desired period could be obtained.

Joking apart, however, there may be something in the contention that a greater amount of sleep is required by people nowadays, especially brain workers, than was formerly the case. Nicola Tesla, the electrician, is credited with saying that he believes a man might live 100 years if he would sleep most of the time. That is why negroes often live to advanced old age, because they sleep so much. He also alluded to the current report that Mr. Gladstone now sleeps 17 hours every day. There is something distinctly pleasant in the idea of an old age of such commanding intellect being kept vigorous by the simplest of remedies.

But the worst of these precepts, like those of modern apostles of sleep, is that their instructions will be taken advantage of by the lazy and brainless as an excuse for inactivity for which they should have no manner of warrant, either in the development of their brains or the delicate adjustment of their nervous system. When the professional tramps read of Gladstone, we shall find stacks of them asleep by the roadside.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

IN THE FAR NORTH.

Explorer Jackson Will Make the Best Dash for the Pole.

A steamer will leave England next summer to bring home the Jackson-Harmsworth arctic expedition, which is now spending its third winter in Franz-Josef Land. All who are interested in arctic endeavor will await with much interest the result of Jackson's efforts next spring and summer, for he intends, if fortune favors him, to surpass Nansen's farthest north and to recover for England the record she lost when Greely's party in 1882 wrested from Markham the laurels of the nearest approach to the north pole.

Jackson has done notable things in Franz-Josef Land. He has proved that the hurried explorations of Weyprecht and Payer in 1873-4 gave us most erroneous notions of that region. His journeys have swept away the great bodies of terra firma which figure on Payer's map as Zichy Land and Wilczek Land. Payer gave us the idea that Franz-Josef Land was at least as large as Spitzbergen. But Jackson has found his Queen Victoria sea where Payer placed land. He has substituted, for Payer's large land masses a considerable number of small islands and a large sea. He believes he has traced the archipelago to its most northwestern point and that his work, with that of Nansen, has fixed its northern and northeastern limits. The climate and ice movements also seem to prove that there is no large northern extension of land, and the drift of the Fram confirms this belief. Franz-Joseph Land, after all, is nothing but a comparatively small archipelago.

Jackson expects this fall to complete his mapping of these islands, and next spring he will set out on the ice or the waters of Victoria sea, where Payer placed Zichy Land, and tempt any fate that fortune may have for him in the far north. "I look upon Queen Victoria sea," he wrote, "as my most favorable route northward next year. When the sun returns next spring, the mapping of Franz-Josef Land will be practically complete, and nothing should prevent my attempting the open water or the crust of ice of this sea." Mr. Harmsworth, who is footing the entire bill for the costly enterprise, says that this opportunity of reaching the highest latitude ever attained will not be allowed to pass and that Jackson will strain every nerve to beat Nansen's record.—New York Sun.

VEGETABLE FREAKS.

Nature Plays Some Odd Pranks In the Tropical Forests.

We who live in the temperate zone are accustomed to nature on her best behavior. We see her orderly ways in the woods, where pines and oaks, poplars and maples, alders and willows and other forest trees have roots that grow down into the ground and limbs that grow properly up and out into the air.

But elsewhere nature has other moods and methods. In a tropical forest there is none of this air of dignity and good principle. The odd pranks, the wild absurdities, the vegetable freaks, which she is there guilty of, make a difference that is astonishing.

Trees apparently grow upside down and assume all sorts of eccentric shapes. Great dragging vines sprawl over everything, twisting and distorting the poor tired trees until they are crippled for life with what looks like rheumatism. The heavy rains and the hot sun make the plants grow rapidly, and there are fierce fights to see which shall win a little space in all that tangle. Such pushing, such climbing!

Then there is the orchid, clinging fringelike everywhere, frail and lovely, swinging back and forth in the soft air, but it has no conscience. It will not do a stroke of honest work and is determined to live on some one else, in which it certainly succeeds.

And there, too, is the wild pineapple (called in the West Indies the "pino"), which takes root in the rich mold lying on the upper side of the largest branches of the mightiest and oldest of the trees. Where its diverging leaves start, a cup is formed, which catches the rain and stores it up for the dry season. In this water little tree frogs and small crabs live, and it is told that years ago one of the expeditions sent against the fierce maroons in the mountains of Jamaica would have perished from thirst had it not been for the little "pines" and their tiny reservoirs.—St. Nicholas.

THE RIGHT TO SNORE.

Boston Courts Uphold a Husband Against a Wife's Complaint.

Mrs. Annie M. Carter of Lynn, Mass., will have to submit to her husband's snoring, and he has a right to continue tickling her feet. The probate court has so decided, and she cannot get back on it except by suing for divorce on other grounds.

Mrs. Carter sued for separate maintenance. She lives in Lynn, while her husband, Charles H. Carter, is engaged in the teaming business in Charlestown. She is an impressional card reader, and, to use her own words, spoken in court, is "a spiritualist to the backbone."

Both were past middle age on their marriage, Aug. 2, 1894. After they were wed they lived together in Charlestown about two months. She left him and went to Lynn to reside. The reason she left him, she said, was that he failed to support her, that he struck her and that he snored and tickled her feet by night.

"How long did he continue tickling your feet?" asked her counsel, G. M. Stearns.

"For two or three weeks," she responded.

Continuing, she said, "He struck me and snored, waking me up."

Mr. Carter testified that his wife gave as her reason for leaving him that the spirits told her she could not get along in Charlestown and had better go to Lynn.

"In the latter part of August, 1894, she said that the spirits told her I had tickled her feet," he added. "I never tickled her feet. I never struck her or any woman in my life. I never threatened to blow her brains out. She left me of her own free will. My home is there if she wishes to come back. I am not a spiritualist."

There were two other witnesses who testified, but whose testimony did not bear directly upon the main issues of the case.

The court dismissed Mrs. Carter's petition, whereupon friends sought to bring about a reconciliation, with favorable prospects of success, though it is thought by many that spiritualism has "turned the woman's head."—Exchange.

RATTAN COFFINS.

Undertakers Have Introduced Them, but They Will Not Become Popular.

The fad for rattan furniture has caught hold of the manufacturers of coffins. Two weeks ago it was possible for any individual of moderate means to be rocked in a rattan cradle, to sit in a rattan chair or recline on a rattan settee. Now the casket manufacturers have completed the cycle by making rattan coffins of all sizes.

One of the caskets, designed for a young child, is on exhibition in the window of a Lincoln avenue funeral director. It looks more like a big sewing basket than a burial case, and it is attracting a good deal of attention. The rattan is twirled and woven into a pretty border, which rises so as to conceal the lid, and the latter slides into position instead of being fastened with screws, as in the ordinary wooden casket.

The basket, for such it really is, is covered with white enamel, the only thing about the whole affair that suggests the casket. Inside the rattan case is a copper one to contain the body.

But, according to a down town funeral director, the rattan casket will never become popular. Rattan furniture, he thinks, is all right to sit on on the front porch or in the parlor, but to be buried in it is something most people will not take kindly to. It is entirely too unsubstantial looking, and it does not look solemn enough.

According to this same undertaker nearly every dealer in coffins in the city has a stock of one or two of the new coffin fads on hand which he is willing to get rid of at a big discount. —Chicago Times-Herald.

TRINIDAD'S LAKE OF PITCH.

Where Inexhaustible Supplies of Asphaltum Are Obtained.

Scientists have long been puzzled at the wonderful geological phenomenon presented by Pitch lake, in the island of Trinidad, the well known source of such vast supplies of asphaltum used on the streets of this and other countries. The lake or pot is estimated at only some 113 acres in area, yet it has yielded up many hundreds of thousands of tons of asphaltum, and, notwithstanding the quantity dug out, the excavation, curiously enough, is refilled with the strange substance in two or three weeks, and thus it is that the level of Pitch lake is said to be never lowered.

A mule and a cart can travel over this asphalt surface, but there are soft spots in which the animal would sink if he stood still. The temperature of the asphaltum in this natural and inexhaustible reservoir is stated to be normally a little above the temperature of the atmosphere, but there are indications all over the island that at some period, ages ago, Pitch lake boiled over and the liquid asphaltum covered the island.—Exchange.

A MONSTER CAT.

He Lives In a New York Fish Market and His Name Is Tom.

Just plain Tom is the unpretending name of probably the greatest domestic cat in the world. Edward Simmons, the fish and oyster man of Fulton market, New York, is the proud possessor of Tom. This giant of cats is 30 inches in length from his head to the tip of his tail. He is a foot high and weighed last spring 24 pounds. The recent hot weather has caused him to drop a few pounds of flesh, but has not impaired his health or happiness.

Thomas is black and white, and is rather peculiarly marked. He has two complete rings of white around his tail, which makes him look like first cousin to a raccoon. Mr. Simmons picked up the cat two years ago while walking along the street. Thomas was but a stray kitten then, so that his pedigree has never been ascertained, and it is not yet known whether or not heredity has had anything to do with his enormous size.—Exchange.

A RAILWAY PUZZLE.

The Mysterious Squeak on the Line of the Carolina Central.

Between the 49 and 55 mile posts on the Carolina Central railroad there is a piece of track for a distance of nearly six miles that presents a singular condition that so far amounts to an inexplicable mystery. All trains going and coming go to grinding and start a terrible squeaking when they get on this six miles of track. The noise comes from not only one car, but every locomotive, every coach and every car of whatever kind sets up a grinding as if turning a curve. The noise is something like the screeching of an ox cart that has no grease on it, and it is made by every truck on a train. The track is perfectly straight, and as there is no curve at all the cause of the grinding and squeaking has mystified the railroad people. Every effort has been made to ascertain the cause of the difficulty. The locomotives have been examined, the coaches and cars have been scrutinized, every crosstie and every rail has been inspected, every joint has been looked at and every foot of the track has been regauged, but no explanation could be found. The section master has almost crawled over the six miles on his knees in search of the cause, the roadmaster has tried his best to ferret out the matter, and the superintendent has been over the track and inspected it, all of them making repeated efforts time and again to find out what is the matter, but they have given it up as a bad job. They have not only not been able to discover the cause of the noise, but have been unable to discover any theory to explain the mystery. It is one of the railroad mysteries of the age and has been going on for 20 years. During that time the crossties and rails have been replaced several times with new ones, but without effect.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Tags on the Cap.

Among the parcels now traveling through the American Express company in Maine is a cap that is being sent over the country by the express agents. The article has been worn and probably cast aside by some one, and some of the expressmen decided to give it a little notoriety. Each agent into whose hands it has passed has attached a tag bearing the date and place. This cap has been most of the time in the southern states. It is really a peculiar sight, having more than 200 tags fastened to it.—Exchange.

End of His Fortune.

In his pay envelope a Pennsylvania railroad employee living at Valparaiso, Ind., found a $5 note on which was written, "This bill represents the last of a fortune, all squandered on women, wine and cards."

WOMEN WANT TO KNOW.

TO WHOM CAN THEY TELL THEIR TROUBLES?

A Woman Answers "To Me"—Anxious Inquirers Intelligently Answered—Thousands of Grateful Letters.

Women regard it as a blessing that they can talk to a woman who fully understands their every ailment, and thus avoid the examinations, experiments and theories of incompetent physicians, whose sex deprives them of knowing by experience.

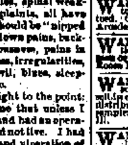

The endless confidence placed in Mrs. Pinkham by American women, prompts them to seek her advice constantly.

Female diseases yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. Inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, ovarian troubles, spinal weakness and kidney complaints, all have their symptoms, and should be "nipped in the bud." Bearing-down pains, backache, headache, nervousness, pains in groins, lassitude, whites, irregularities, dread of impending evil, blues, sleeplessness, faintness, etc.

Here is testimony right to the point:

"The doctors told me that unless I went to the hospital and had an operation performed, I could not live. I had falling, enlargement and ulceration of the womb.

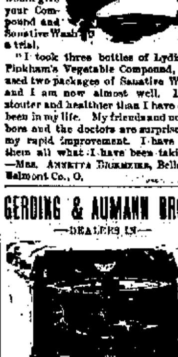

"I was in constant misery all the time; my back ached; I was always tired. It was impossible for me to walk far or stand long at a time. I was surely a wreck. I decided that I would give your Compound and Sanative Wash a trial.

"I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used two packages of Sanative Wash, and I am now almost well. I am stouter and healthier than I have ever been in my life. My friends and neighbors and the doctors are surprised at my rapid improvement. I have told them all what I have been taking."—MRS. ANNETTA DICKERSON, Bellaire, Belmont Co., O.

It's half good—good stuff, but spoiled in cutting; or well sewed, but ill fitting and shapeless. Do you easily find clothing that's excellent all over?—especially Boys' Clothing.

WELL IT'S HERE—That's what makes these suits so remarkable.

BOY'S GOOD CLOTHES,

Made up in either Reefer or Double-Breasted style in all new colorings and Scotch fabrics. Strictly all-wool and the kind that is hard to wear out—at $2.50, $3.00, and $3.50.

Other stores have goods at the same prices, but none of them can equal these values.

If You Are Interested in the higher grades of Boys' Clothing you will find our stock of SUITS, REEFERS AND OVERCOATS the most complete in the city.

FREE

People Will Buy Goods

In Hard Times, if they are Sold Cheap Enough.

We are selling lots of goods—more than ever before in the history of our great store, but are making mighty little money.

Times are not propitious for money making. The people will only buy when they are offered a $2 article for $1.

We have been filling our immense establishment with car load after car load of just such bargains, bought of receivers of factories that have failed.

The effect upon our business has been magical. In August of 1895 our sales exceeded those of August of 1894 sixty-two per cent. In August of this year we made a gain in sales over last year of twenty-two per cent, making a gain in August of 1896 over the same month of 1894 of eighty-four per cent. We doubt if such a record of increase of sales can be matched by any old established house in the state.
